FACULTY OF HUMANITIES DIPONEGORO UNIVERSITY

PREFACE

By the abundant blessing from the Almighty God, the construction of the Faculty of Humanities of Diponegoro University's guidebook 2022 could be done right in time with sincerity, responsibility, determination, and enthusiasm. The construction of this guidebook is purposed as the reference and guidance in every academic, administration, and student-related affairs to solidify the implementation of the Threefold Missions of Higher Education (Tri Dharma Perguruan Tinggi) of the Faculty of Humanities of Diponegoro University.

The guidebook then contained a brief history of the Faculty of Humanities of Diponegoro University, vision, mission, aims, educational target, organization structure (alongside the person in charge), course credits, education evaluation, final project's construction, and student's activities, rights, and responsibility. For holistically of the guidebook, list of courses and the distribution, and the list of managers and lecturers with the courses they handle.

This guidebook would never be able to be done right in time without the support from various parties. Hence, I would like to express my biggest gratitude to Diponegoro University's Rector for the trust in the Faculty of Humanities in this guidebook's construction. Another gratitude toward this guidebook construction team for the amazing dedication and contribution toward Diponegoro University's Faculty of Humanities, especially towards the Vice Deans, UP3, TPMF, Heads/Secretary of Departments and Study Program, administration's manager, supervisors, and the other parties that can't be mentioned here one by one. For their amazing support and attachment to their assigned tasks and responsibilities.

Finally, for every academic society in the Faculty of Humanities of Diponegoro University that would like to utilize this guidebook, the construction and improvement of it, heavily rely on critics and suggestions from all of you. Kindly do not hesitate to express your critics and suggestions. Hopefully, this guidebook could truly guide every educational management well for the smooth run of academic activities in the Faculty of Humanities of Diponegoro University that is excellent, dignified, and worthwhile for society.

Semarang, July 2022

Dean FIB UNDIP

CHAPTER I INTRODUCTION

A. Diponegoro University Logo

1. The Logo Shape

The image depicts the Diponegoro University logo. Diponegoro University's logo is based on two principles: the university's character and Diponegoro's heroism. Jasmine flowers represent the university, while Keris and Prince Diponegoro's shadow (silhouette) represent heroism.

2. The Logo Meaning

The developing jasmine flower buds symbolize the nature of the University; a place to add knowledge that is developing and willing to apply knowledge to the community. The jasmine bud is in the center of 15 petals, and the two petals represent Diponegoro University, which was established on October 15, 1960. Keris, with the background of Prince Diponegoro's shadow, has a meaning to protect and defend the nation's independence. The pentagon base represents Pancasila as the State Foundation of the Republic of Indonesia and Diponegoro University.

B. Short History of Faculty of Humanities

1. Institutional Development

At the time of its establishment, on September 12, 1965, based on Ministerial Decree No. 173/165 dated August 21, 1965, Faculty of Humanities was known as the Faculty of Letters and Culture (Sasdaya). Prof. Soenario, S.H., who was the Rector of Undip at the time, had the idea to establish the Faculty. His experience studying law at Leiden University's Faculty of Indology (Netherlands) inspired the idea. Prospective colonial officials in the Dutch East Indies learned about the culture of the indigenous peoples of the Dutch East Indies (Indonesia) in this faculty. Keeping this mind, Prof. Soenario, S.H. wishes to establish faculties dedicated to the study and development of Indonesian culture.

Because the primary goal of the Faculty of Sasdaya was to educate prospective scholars in the field of Indonesian culture, the Department of Indonesia was the only department established at the time. It is hoped that the graduates will be able to research and broaden their knowledge of Indonesian culture, as well as introduce it to the international community.

In line with the demands of society, in 1967 a new department was opened, namely the Anglo-Saxon Department which concentrated on Western Literature and Culture. Considering the Indonesian basis is the main goal, the separation of majors is only carried out in the third year. When it was noticed that the policy was reducing the amount of time available for studying Western literature, it was revised in 1968. After much deliberation, the Senate of the Faculty of Social and Political Sciences finally decided on January 31, 1970, that the major could be completed in the second year. The first year focuses on basic Indonesian knowledge. Based on the approval of the Literature and Philosophy Sub-consortium and the decision of the Faculty Senate meeting on May 18, 1972, a new department, the History Department, was established in 1972.

In accordance with this development, the Faculty Masterplan committee decided at a meeting on June 19, 1972, that a number of basic Indonesian courses did not have to be given in the first year, but could be distributed at various levels, allowing study program distribution to begin in the first year. Since 1973, the Department of Indonesia and the Anglo Saxon Department have started to open Doctoral level programs, whereas the History Department has only opened accaureate level programs due to a lack of teachers.

In 1978 there was an important change in the education system, namely the Semester Credit System (SKS). In addition, entering the decade of the 1980s, the role of the Literature and Philosophy Sub-consortium in the development of majors or study programs at universities was very decisive. Due to the concept of uniformity, the Undip Sasdaya Faculty has adapted to other similar faculties in Indonesia. The Faculty of Letters and Culture became the Faculty of Literature in 1983. Furthermore, the Department of Indonesiology was renamed the Department of Indonesian Literature. The Anglo Saxon Department was renamed the English Literature Department on April 21, 1984, and the History Department was renamed the History Department.

The dynamics of the Faculty of Letters continued in the following period. In line with the growing public demand for ready-to-use academic professionals, the Faculty of Letters has begun to offer non-degree study programs. In 1992, the Department of History started collaborating with the Regional Archives Office of Central Java Province to provide archival training to local government employees. Beginning with these activities, they were eventually inspired to establish the Archives Diploma III Program. Furthermore, on February 14, 1994, the Archives DIII Study Program was established by Decree of the Director General of Higher Education No. 64/Dikti/Kep/1994. This study program accepts government students as well as high school graduates. Meanwhile, several English Literature department lecturers began to pioneer the establishment of an English diploma program.

This effort was successful with the issuance of the Director General of Higher Education's Decree No. 16/Dikti/Kep/1995 on February 2, 1995, regarding the establishment of an English Diploma III Program with specialization in the fields of Tourism, Public Relations, and Office Administration.

Furthermore, on September 12, 1996, the Director General of Higher Education issued Decree No. 521/Dikti/Kep/1996, which entitled the establishment of the English Literature Extension Program. On September 12, 1996, the Diploma III Library and Information program began in accordance with Director General of Higher Education Decree 646/Dikti/Kep/1996. With the increasing global challenges of the twenty-first century, as well as the increasing demand for international communication, the Faculty of Letters continues to develop study programs related to foreign language mastery competencies. Based on these considerations, the Japanese Language Diploma Program was opened in 2001 by Decree of the Director General of Higher Education, Ministry of Education and Culture No. 27/Dikti/Kep/2001 dated January 30, 2001. Japanese was chosen as one of the study programs because Japan is one of the most advanced and influential nations in the world, particularly in the Asia Pacific region.

As the number of Diploma III graduates grows, so does the need for a forum for those who want to continue their education. On that basis, the idea grew to open a regular and extension undergraduate study program. The Faculty of Letters was successful in opening the Indonesian Literature Extension Program in 2003. Furthermore, based on the Decree of the Director General of Higher Education, Ministry of Education and Culture No. 3025/D/T/2005, two study programs, namely the Library Science Study Program (Regular 1) and the 2nd Regular Program (Extension) of Library Science, were successfully launched in 2005. Furthermore, the Japanese Literature Study Program (Regular 1) and (Regular 2) Japanese Literature were established successfully in 2009.

The success of establishing various study programs at the Diploma and S1 levels encourages the Faculty of Letters to expand its role and capabilities, specifically by opening a Masters Program. Since 2002, three Masters Study Programs (S2) have been successfully established, namely the Masters Study Program of Literature (2002), based on the Director General of Higher Education's Decree No. 3207/D/T/2002 dated October 28, 2002, the Masters Program of Linguistics (2005), based on the Director General of Higher Education's Decree No. 1340/D/T/2005 dated May 6, 2005, and the Master of History Study Program (2007), based on the Director General of Higher Education's Decree No. 4923/D/T/2007 dated December 26, 2006. According to the Decree of the Rector of Diponegoro University number 112/UN7.P/HK/2017 dated March 14, 2017, the Diploma III Program of the Faculty of Letters changed its management to a Vocational School beginning in 2017. The Doctoral Program in History was also established in 2017.

On March 22, 2005, the Faculty Senate decided to submit a proposal to the Directorate General of Higher Education to change the name of the Faculty of Letters to Faculty of Humanities (FIB). The concept of change is related to the desire to compete with other institutions that have various fields of knowledge, including the humanities. Thus, the name change is more than just a change in nomenclature; FIB is expected to be able to accommodate the various elements in it with the new name. Furthermore, many other universities in Indonesia, including Indonesia University and Gadjah Mada University, have changed their names to include the word "culture". Finally, in 2009, the name change was approved. The name of the Faculty of Letters was officially changed to Fakultas Ilmu Budaya (FIB), which translates as Faculty of Humanities in English, by Decree of the Rector of UNDIP No. 184/SK/117/2009. On March 5, 2014, FIB received a Decree of the Minister of Education and Culture Number 088/P/2014.SK approving the Social Anthropology Study Program. FIB is currently proposing the establishment of a Performing Arts and S3 Culture Study Program.

C. Vision, Mission, and Goals

1. Vision

Become an excellent Research Faculty in Southeast Asia by 2025 in the field of culture which includes literature, language, history, anthropology, libraries.

2. Mission

- 1) Organizing high-quality research-based teaching in the fields of literature, language, history, anthropology, and libraries on a national and international scale.
- 2) Conduct professional research and publish scientific papers as a contribution to the development of science and art, including literature, language, history, anthropology, and libraries.
- 3) Organizing community service based on the findings of research conducted by lecturers and students in literature, language, history, anthropology, libraries, philosophy, and archives in order to apply and develop science and art.
- 4) Improving professionalism, capability, accountability, in governance and the independence of faculty administration.

3. Goals

Diponegoro University's Faculty of Humanities education aims to:

- 1) Produce graduates who have quality research competencies and/or professional expertise in the fields of literature, language, history, anthropology, libraries, philosophy, and archives. Those with academic and/or professional abilities, moral integrity, scientific and critical attitude and have high competitiveness both at national and international levels.
- 2) Produce research works and publications as well as innovative and quality professional expertise in the fields of literature, language, history, anthropology, library,

- 3) Produce community service works that contribute to improving people's living standards and the progress of the nation as well as encouraging the spirit of science and technology-based entrepreneurship.
- 4) Realizing an efficient, accountable, transparent, fair, and integrated higher education governance situation in the Faculty of Humanities.

4. Organizational Governance

a. Organizational Structure

According to the Diponegoro University Statute, which was confirmed by Government Regulation Number 52 of 2015, the organizational structure of Faculty of Humanities consists of three elements: leadership elements, academic elements, and administrative elements.

According to the Rector Regulation of Diponegoro University Number 2 of 2019, the faculty leadership consists of the dean, vice dean, and faculty senate. There are two vice deans in the Faculty of Humanities: Vice Dean I (Academic and Student Affairs) and Vice Dean II (Resources). Academic elements include departments, study programs, laboratories, studios, and lecturer groups.

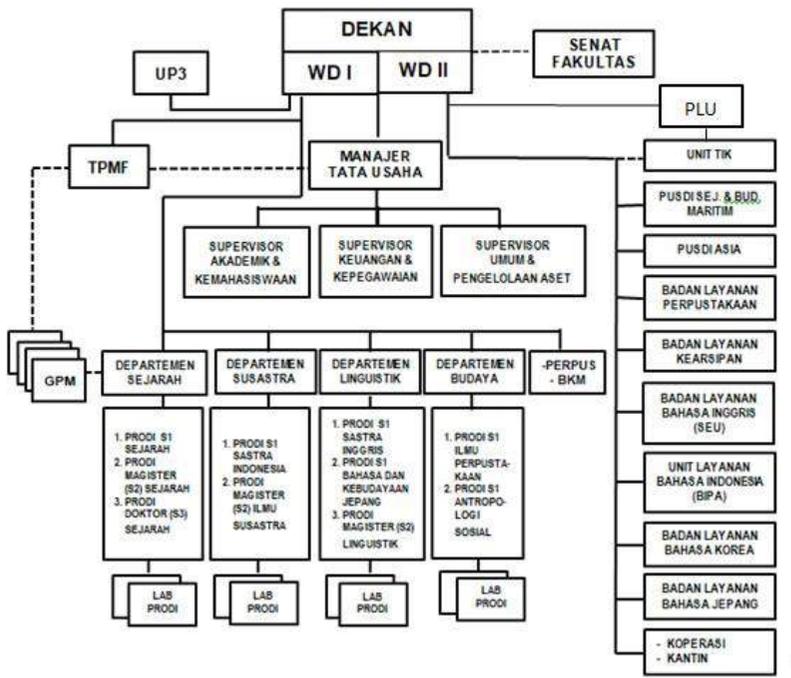

The Faculty of Humanities is in the process of determining the organizational structure at the departmental level. Faculty of Humanities has four departments which include the Department of History, the Department of Letters, the Department of Linguistics, and the Department of Culture. Each department has the following study programs.

- 1) The Department of History has three study programs, : History Doctoral Study Program, History Masters Study Program, History S1 Study Program.
- 2) The Department of Letters has two study programs: Masters Study Program of Literature and S1 Indonesian Literature Study Program.
- 3) The Department of Linguistics has three study programs: Master of Linguistics Study Program, English Literature Undergraduate Study Program, and Japanese Language and Culture Undergraduate Study Program,
- 4) The Department of Culture has two study programs: S1 Library Science Study Program, and S1 Social Anthropology Study Program.

A department chair manages each department. Without a departmental secretary, each study program in each department is led by the head of the study program. This is in accordance with the structural efficiency program of Undip Rector Regulation No. 2 of 2019. The Faculty of Humanities has five laboratories: a computer laboratory, English, culture, and history laboratories, a community service center, and an operator-managed studio. The administrative executive division consists of three subsections: Academic and Student Supervisor, Finance and Personnel Supervisor, and General Student and Asset Management Supervisor.

The following are the main tasks and functions of the important parts of FIB Undip's organizational structure:.

Chart 4.1: FIB Organizational Structure

- 15) Each Service Unit's head and secretary are required to plan, implement, and report to the Vice Dean I/Vice Dean for Student Affairs.
- 16) The Study Center's Head is led by a chairman and a secretary, and the process is open to the public (open bidding).)
- 17) The ICT Unit (Information and Communication Technology) is a special unit that functions as a supporting unit in the field of providing information and communication technology services for all FIB units, including: providing databases for all required administrative fields (academic, student affairs, facilities and assets), and data processing into information material that is displayed on the internet.
- 18) The ICT Unit is led by a chairman who is under the coordination of Vice Dean II / Vice Dean of Resources through the head of TUFIB.

b. Governance System

In general, the governance system implemented by FIB Undip is based on policy at the university level in accordance with governance according to Government Regulation of Indonesia Republic Number 81 of 2014 concerning Designation of Undip as a Legal Entity State University (PTNBH).

The university serves as a catch-all for all existing faculties. In general, credibility, transparency, accountability, and accountability for the implementation of educational programs in faculties that lead to spears in study programs, namely: Higher Education Database Report (PDDIKTI) every semester, preparation of FIB Business Budget Plan (RBA) every semester, financial reporting (Letter of Accountability, SPJ) every month, Faculty Work Meetings, Faculty Leadership Meetings, Faculty Senate Meetings, and other incidental monitoring. As a result, the level of credibility, transparency, accountability, and accountability for academic activity implementation at the faculty level is always well monitored.

FIB Undip consists of four departments: Department of History, Department of Letters, Department of Linguistics, and Department of Culture, which in total has ten study programs, namely: Doctor of History Study Program (S3), Master of History Study Program (S2), Master's Study Program of Literature (S3) Masters Degree of Linguistics (S2), Indonesian History Study Program (S1), Indonesian Literature Study Program (S1), English Literature Study Program (S1), Japanese Language and Culture Study Program (S1), Library Science Study Program (S1), and Social Anthropology Study Program (S1). In carrying out their duties, faculty leaders are assisted by Administrative Managers consisting of Academic and Student Supervisors, Finance and Personnel Supervisors, and General Supervisors and Asset Management.

c. Leadership

FIB leadership consists of the Dean and two Vice Deans: Vice Dean I (Academic and Student Affairs) and Vice Dean II (Resources). FIB Undip develops leadership based on democratic principles, values, norms, ethics, and a strong academic culture. As the faculty's highest normative institution, the Faculty Senate makes all policies concerning the implementation of academic activities. Faculty Leaders hold a Faculty Working Meeting at least once a month to discuss academic activity plans and implementation. Various positive inputs and constructive criticism are accommodated in the improvement of planning. To ensure the successful implementation of academic activities, FIB Undip conducts monitoring and evaluation at the end of each semester, involving various parties such as faculty leaders, lecturers, administrative leaders, and students. It is done in order to solve various faced by FIB and to develop future improvement plans. In addition, every two weeks, there is a Leader Meeting/ Rapat Pimpinan (Rapim) with members of the dean and administrative leaders. Rapim discusses a variety of current issues that require fast and appropriate response. The system and implementation of civil service at Diponegoro University's Faculty of Humanities to elect leaders and build a system of governance that is credible, accountable, transparent, responsible, and fair.

System and implementation of governance for selecting leaders, particularly the Dean, Vice Dean, Head of Department/Head of Study Program, are based on applicable regulations and take into account the aspirations of the entire academic community.

The Faculty Senate selects Deans and Vice Deans based on a majority of votes and a minimum attendance requirement of 2/3 of the senate members. The election results are submitted to the Rector for approval and ratification by the University Senate before being processed in accordance with applicable regulations.

The selection of the Head of the Department / Head of the Study Program is done at the departmental level, with the condition that at least 2/3 of the lecturers in the department concerned vote.

All leaders are tasked and take responsibility for implementing the planned programs, as well as evaluating and improving their implementation.

Appreciations and sanctions are given to lecturers, employees and students in accordance with applicable regulations. Coordination meetings are held at the beginning and end of the semester. All Leaders in the Faculty are fair to lecturers and staff in terms of providing information and opportunities for self-improvement and development.

d. Management System

The Dean is responsible for coordinating, supervising, and controlling all activities, whether they are coordinated by study programs, administrative units, and other units under the faculty, or various activities that are directly coordinated at the faculty level or across the department. Furthermore, the Dean, with the assistance of vice deans, develops a development plan, operational plan, work plan, and budget plan. In this case, the faculty management system includes aspects of planning, organizing, developing the academic community, supervision, direction, and budgeting that are intended to be carried out effectively and efficiently.

Furthermore, the Dean has a variety of external leadership responsibilities, both within and outside of the university. External leadership within the university context includes the task of coordinating between faculties, university leaders, university senates, and, in some cases, representing universities in various forums of activities between universities and other institutions outside universities. External leadership outside the university includes the duties and responsibilities of strengthening the faculty's presence in the larger community, both in the world of higher education, institutions, and the general public. Besides that, it is the duty and responsibility of faculties to develop their image and participation in the building of the community, nation, and state, both through the world of higher education, institutions, and the general public, in accordance with the Tri Dharma of Higher Education. Building collaboration with other institutions, both government and private, as well as various communities of the general public, for example, in the form of education and training, community dedication, research, social dedication, and others.

In terms of planning, the faculty leader broadly involves various units in the faculty to participate in planning the program of activities and development of the existing faculties and units so that progress can be made both at the faculty level and at the level below it in terms of departments, study programs, and their supporting units in order to realize the vision, carry out the mission, and achieve the goals as planned. Thus, the planning process is democratic, taking into account the various elements' aspirations and thoughts. Every year, FIB Undip prepares activity and development plans in the form of RBA (Business Budget Plans) that will be implemented within the next two years. The Plan is prepared with input from the academic community, which is obtained through teaching staff meetings and meetings with students and lecturers. Then, at the start of each semester, socialization and internalization are carried out to the entire academic community in order for the plan to be operational. If deemed very significant, incidental activities are also carried out by collecting funds from various related but nonbinding parties. To ensure the success of each activity, a committee that is accountable and transparent is formed.

The department, in collaboration with the faculty, works to improve the qualifications and competencies of lecturers. In this case, the faculty provides facilities for various academic activities such as seminars and training for lecturers and students. Furthermore, the faculty provides research funds and assists lecturers and students in writing scientific articles that are ready to be published in scientific journals. Meanwhile, the faculty is developing educational personnel through very positive training to improve their performance.

The supervisory aspect of the lecturer's performance is implemented in a variety of ways. Monitoring and evaluation are carried out at the end of the semester by distributing questionnaires to students and through lecturer-student contact forums, in addition to filling out the BKD (Lecturer Workload) form, which is carried out by the university in collaboration with the faculties. Furthermore, the faculty has created various instruments to monitor the performance of lecturers through the study program, such as the provision of a Manual Procedure I (MP), attendance lists, score list guidance cards, and so on.

The management aspect of representation is also a starting point in the management of FIB Undip. In this case, the aspect of organizational representation is attempted by optimizing the participation of all staff, both lecturers and administration, in planning, decision-making, and implementation.

5. Education Quality Assurance

Since the early 2000s, the Ministry of Education and Culture has paid close attention to this quality assurance. For example, the Higher Education Longterm Strategy (HELT) 2003-2010 states that:

"In healthy organization, a continuous quality improvement should become its primary concern. Quality assurance should be internally driven, institutionalized within each organization's standard procedure, and could also involve external parties. However, since quality is also a concern of all stakeholders, quality improvement should aim at producing quality outputs and outcomes as part of public accountability".

The long-term strategy of higher education has clearly identified quality assurance as a strategic issue that must be addressed in higher education management. This is reinforced by Article 91 PP. Number 19 of 2005 concerning National Education Standards, which states: 1) Every education unit, both formal and informal, is required to ensure educational quality. 2) The education quality assurance mentioned in paragraph (1) seeks to meet or exceed National Education Standards. 3) The quality assurance of education referred to in paragraph (1) is carried out in stages, systematically, and in accordance with a quality assurance program with a specific target and time frame.

In the framework outlined above, Undip has been preparing to implement Higher Education Quality Assurance since 2004. Various preparations have been made during the preparation stage, including human resources, documents, quality assurance organizations, and Undip policies on quality assurance. The Undip Senate approved the formation of the Undip Quality Assurance Agency on January 30, 2006. (BPM). On February 1, 2006, Undip Rector declared that Undip had officially implemented a Quality Assurance System under the motto "Undip Success with Quality".

Diponegoro University's Quality Assurance Agency (BPM) was established to implement the Quality Assurance policy. Currently, BPM is under the LP2MP (Institute for Development and Quality Assurance of Education), which is in charge of implementing quality assurance in all aspects of the university. A Faculty Quality Assurance Team (TPMF) has also been established at the Faculty level, FIB. The Postgraduate Program Quality Assurance Team (TPMPPS) was formed in the same way. A GPM (Quality Assurance Group) has also been formed in each department at FIB Undip. Internally, BPM also conducts quality assurance audits using the AMAI system (Internal Academic Quality Accreditation). The organizational structure of the Undip Quality Assurance Agency and the general position of TPMF FIB can be shown in Chart 4.2.

Chart 4.2 The organizational structure of Quality Assurance

Some of the personnel chosen for TPMF management have received Higher Education Quality Assurance System (SPMPT) training. Internal quality management is carried out at the faculty level through the preparation of quality documents, accreditation preparation, and so on, all of which are carried out in collaboration with GPM in FIB. By conducting regular monitoring and evaluation, quality assurance covers aspects of input, process, output, and outcome. Input quality assurance includes both the quality and quantity of prospective students. Because the majority of FIB Undip's study programs are not marketable, improving the quality of input is prioritized by improving the quality and quantity of the process. It is also hoped that process quality improvement will shorten the student's study period, though this is still a work in progress.

Internal monitoring and evaluation by TPMF is carried out periodically which is stated in a written report every three months. In addition, by coordinating with department heads and study program heads, TPMF through GPM Study Program also monitors students who are less active in completing thesis writing. They were specially called to be invited to discuss in order to complete their thesis. External evaluation is carried out by holding a connection forum with students and gathering information from alumni.

The evaluation results are used to improve and develop faculties and study programs in areas such as curriculum, learning methods, libraries, facilities and infrastructure, thesis guidance, and so on. Strategic steps for implementing the results of internal and external monitoring and evaluation are discussed in TPMF meetings attended by all faculty members. The majority of the results of internal and external monitoring and evaluation are used to develop policies for future continuous improvement.

D. Achievement Strategy

Based on the vision, mission, and goals that have been set, the targets to be achieved in the learning process in various study programs at FIB Undip include aspects contained in RAISE++, namely: relevance, academic atmosphere, sustainability, efficiency, leadership, equity, appropriateness, adequacy, selectivity, effectiveness, dan productivity.

To realize the FIB vision, 16 strategic targets will be the focus of development, namely:

Increasing human resources' learning capacity;

Improving Graduate Quality and Competence through Application

Quality assurance in the teaching and learning process, as well as a synergistic learning system;

Increasing learning opportunities by taking into account the Gross Enrollment Rate (GER) for all levels of higher education (S1, S2, and S3) and is not discriminatory;

Improving the quality and accessibility of educational facilities and infrastructure;

Improving the quality and accessibility of educational facilities and infrastructure;

Expanding access and opportunities for lecturers/researchers to conduct research through faculty funding, LPPM, and DRPM Dikti, particularly those related to RIP Undip;

Improving the quality of collaboration and research partner network in the context of publishing research results;

Increasing the use of research findings to better people's lives;

Human resource capacity building and related units in community service;

Increasing academic community participation and access to community service activities;

Improving the entrepreneurial spirit through science and technology;

Achieving effective and efficient bureaucracy and regulations in the direction of Good University Governance (GUG);

Achieving transparent and accountable financial management;

Achieving transparent and accountable financial management;

Increased funding for long-term development.

These strategic objectives are addressed by progressive policy development. The following policies will be implemented:

Improving education and learning quality;

Improving the quality and quantity of research and scientific/technological/art works;

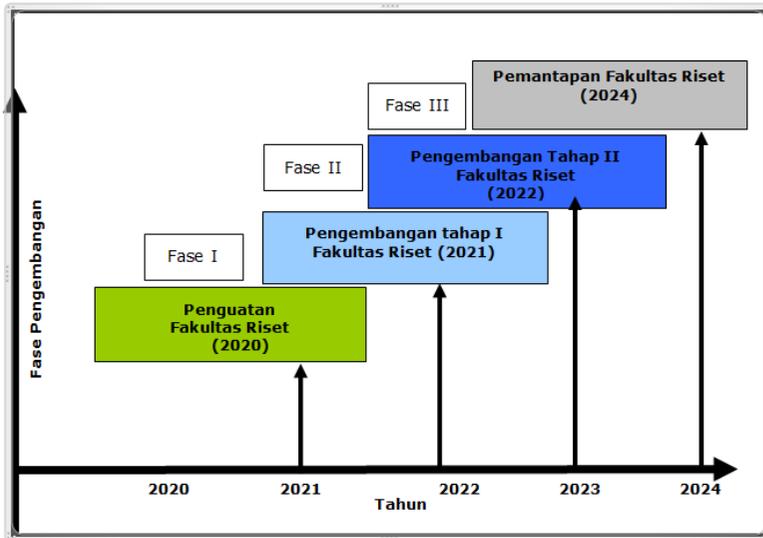

Improving the quality and quantity of community service

Increasing the Capacity of Human Resources, Governance, and Higher Education Independence.

To achieve the previous mentioned targets and realize FIB Undip's vision of becoming an excellent research faculty by 2025, the achievement strategy is implemented over a 20-year period, namely the Long-Term Development Strategy or PJP (for 20 years), which is divided into four phases of Five Year Development (PLT): PLT I (2005-2010), PLT II (2010-2015), PLT III (2015-2020), and PLT IV (2020-2025). (2020-2025). It was passed from 2005 to 2010 for the PLT I phase, namely the Preparation Phase as a Research Faculty. As a Research Faculty, FIB Undip is currently in the PLT II phase, which is the Embryo phase. Chart 4.3 depicts the Long-Term Development stage in general.

Master Degree study load is 36-42 credits. The study load can be finished for at least 4 (four) semesters or 2 (two) years and for the maximum is 8 (eight) years or 4 (four) semesters. Thus, for Bachelor Degree study load is 144-160 credits (approximately 145-150 credits). The study load can be finished for at least 8 (eight) semesters and for maximum 14 (fourteen) semesters.

2) Courses Groups Classification Doctoral Degree, Master Degree, and Bachelor Degree educational programs

Each study program at the Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University presents a number of selected courses in accordance with study program general objectives. The creation of the courses aimed from Keputusan Menteri Pendidikan Nasional Republik Indonesia No. 045/U/2002 and SK Rektor No. 470/SK/UN7/2012 tentang penetapan kurikulum program pendidikan diploma dan sarjana bagi program studi di lingkungan Universitas Diponegoro tahun 2012-2017 which states that the study program implementation consists of main, competencies and other competencies.

In 2020, Diponegoro University Faculty of Humanities started to implement Kurikulum Merdeka Belajar Kampus Merdeka (MBKM). MBKM is a program released by Kementrian Pendidikan dan Kebudayaan which is a framework to prepare the students to be successful graduates with an understanding of this era and with the capability to be patriotic leaders. The MBKM program, which is implemented with Diponegoro University Kampus Merdeka Specific Certain Guidelines, has been the foundation of the curriculum since 2020. In 2020 grade weighting was also adjusted based on Peraturan Rektor No. 28 Tahun 2020 tentang Peraturan Akademik Bidang Pendidikan Program Sarjana Universitas Diponegoro. The grade composition that was originally 40% Mid-Semester Examination, 40% Final Semester Examination and 20% tasks became 25% UTS, 25% UAS, and 50% Assignments.

Based on Peraturan Menteri Pendidikan dan Kebudayaan No. 3 Tahun 2020 tentang Standar Nasional Pendidikan Tinggi, the students were given the right to study outside their field for 3 (three) semesters which is already included in Kampus Merdeka (Merdeka Belajar) program. Through this program, there are many opportunities for students to develop knowledge and competence in real situations that are connected to their passion and future goals. These opportunities include: 1) student exchange; 2) internship; 3) teaching assistant in education unit; 4) research; 5) humanitarian project; 6) entrepreneurship; 7) independent study/project; 8) developing village/Kuliah Kerja Nyata Tematik (KKNT). Those activities could be converted to relevant credits, fulfilling the requirements and following the procedure arranged by the conversion team of each study program in Diponegoro University Faculty of Humanities.

b. Rencana Pembelajaran Semester (RPS)

- 1) RPS is an overview of semester study plans that contain brief descriptions of courses, Standar Kompetensi (SK = competency standards) and Kompetensi Dasar (KD = basic competencies), subjects and sub-topics, learning methods, soft skills and references.
- 2) RPS is used as a guide for lecturers and students in carrying out the teaching and learning process. By reading RPS, the lecturers and students can be informed about 1 (one) semester study plan. Courses that have 2 (two) credits @100 minutes per each lecture (14 lectures in total); courses that have 3 (three) credits @150 minutes per each lecture (14 lectures in total); courses that have 4 (four) credits @200 minutes per each lecture (14 lectures in total). RPS could be seen in each study program.

c. Courses Code

The course code used by the Faculty of Humanities, following the 2017 curriculum, is B for Bachelor Degree Program and Master Degree Program and D for Doctoral Degree Program. For the 2020 curriculum, the codes used are P and L. The course codes for each study program are as follows.

No	Study Program	2017 Course Code	2020 Course Code
1	Doctor of History Doctoral Degree Study Program	DIS	PBSJ9/LBSJ9
2	Master of Literature Master Degree Study Program	BIS	PBIS
3	Master of Linguistics Master Degree Study Program	BLG	PBLG/LBLG
4	Master of History Science Master Degree Study Program	BSJ	PBSJ8/-
5	Indonesian Language and Literature Study Program Bachelor Degree Study Program	BID	PDIB/LDIB
6	English Literature Study Program Bachelor Degree Study Program	BEN	PBEN/LBEN
7	History Study Program Bachelor Degree Study Program	BSJ	PBSJ/LBSJ
8	Library Science Study Program Bachelor Degree Study Program	BIP	PBIP/LBIP
9	Japanese Language and Culture Study Program Bachelor Degree Study Program	BJP	PBJP/LBJP
10	Social Anthropology Study Program Bachelor Degree Study Program	BAT	PBAT/LBAT

d. Education Program Code

Course codes can be used to distinguish the three degree programs, they are bachelor degree, master degree, and doctoral degree programs, and can be used to accommodate the number of offered courses type development that may arise due to the development itself. Therefore, the course code refers to Peraturan Menteri Riset dan Pendidikan Tinggi No. 44 Tahun 2015 tentang Standar Nasional Pendidikan Tinggi, Peraturan Rektor No. 15 Tahun 2017 tentang Peraturan Akademik Bidang Pendidikan Program Sarjana Universitas Diponegoro and and guidelines arranged by the Lembaga Pengembangan dan Penjaminan Mutu Pendidikan (LP2MP) Diponegoro University. The 2017 curriculum code is compiled by following the brief guidelines and examples of 2017 curriculum preparation, while the 2020 curriculum or MBKM curriculum is prepared by following the Diponegoro University Kurikulum Kampus Merdeka.

e. Study Load

Doctoral Degree Study Program has 42-50 credits, Master Degree Study Program has 36-50 credits and Bachelor Degree Study Program has 144-160 credits. For the Bachelor Degree Study Program, at the first semester, the new students are obligated to take a study load package with offered credits. For the next semester, the study load is determined based on the GPA achieved in the previous semester. The GPA provisions for the Doctoral, Master, and Bachelor Degree levels are as follows:

- 1) GPA 3,00 (for Bachelor Degree students can take for maximum 24 credits).
- 2) GPA 2,50 - 2,99 (for Bachelor Degree students can take for maximum 22 credits).
- 3) GPA 2,00 - 2,49 (for Bachelor Degree students can take for maximum 20 credits).
- 4) GPA less than 2,00 (for Bachelor Degree students can take for maximum 18 credits)

H. Credits

1. Credits Application Basis

The Faculty of Humanities as a part of Diponegoro University carries out a credits system as the provisions that are available at Diponegoro University as outlined in the Surat Keputusan Rektor No. 41B/PT09/1984 tanggal 3 Maret 1984. In the decree, it was formulated that the credit system is an education administration system using semester credit units to state the student study load, lecturer workload, learning experience, and program administration load.

In the credit system, the term semester is a unit of activity time consisting of a minimum of 16 weeks. SKS (credits), which is a measure of appreciation for the learning experience gained during one semester through scheduled activities per week of one or two hours of lecture, or four hours of field work, each interspersed by one to two hours of structured and structured activities and one to two hours of independent activity.

2. Purpose

Generally, the implementation of the credit system aims to make universities more able to meet the demands of development because with the credit system, it is possible to provide varied and flexible educational programs. Besides, the credit system could probably give the students broader choices in choosing a program. The specific objectives of the credit system are as follows.

- a. Give smart and ambitious students the opportunity to finish their study in a short time period;
- b. Give students the opportunity to choose courses according to their interests, talents, and abilities;
- c. Give the education system chance with inputs and outputs implementation;
- d. Make occasional adjustments to the curriculum more efficiently with the help of science and technology;
- e. Provide the opportunity to adjust the evaluation system for a given curriculum to assess a student's willingness to learn;
- f. Allows the credit transfer of between departments and faculties within a university;
- g. Allows the transfer of students from one university to another, or from one section to another within a university.

3. Credit Score

a. The Basic of Credit System

Every course in the credit system will be given a load that is written in the credit score. The credit score ranged from 1-8 credits.

b. Semester Credit Score

Semester credit score determined by load that included three kinds of study per week. Study activity that is scored 1 (one) credit, which includes 50 minutes lectures, 60 minutes structured academic activity and 60 minutes individual work (material mastering) per week.

4. Credit Administration

Credit administration is an essential factor in the execution of a good credit system. This is important for all parties involved including students, teachers and administrative officers. Some things to note are as follows:

a. Administrative equipment

- 1) Books and brochures that contain:
  - a) Academic calendar (lecture period, examination period, judiciary, completion of KHS and IRS, and others)
  - b) List of courses offered in each semester, complete with information regarding the type and status according to the curriculum/syllabus, number of credits, and others.
  - c) Class schedule for each semester which explains the day/hour/place of lecture and the lecturer.
- 2) Kartu Hasil Studi (KHS) and Isian Rencana Studi (IRS).
- 3) Attendance list.
- 4) Daftar Kumpulan Nilai (DKN) for every students.

b. Academic Adviser

1) Academic Adviser Definition

Academic Adviser is a lecturer appointed by the faculty to guide and direct students in preparing study plans in accordance with applicable regulations, as well as following the progress of their student's studies. Academic Adviser only applies to students in Bachelor Degree programs;

- 2) Academic Adviser Duty
  - a) Giving guidance and direction to the student whether requested or not regarding various problems encountered during their education, fostering effective study habits, as well as assisting students in preparing study plans;
  - b) Validating IRS that has inputted online by the students;
  - c) Signing validated IRS;

  - e) Sending the KHS to the student's parents at the end of each semester by the academic department;
  - f) Filling out an individual evaluation card (individual record) whose format is determined by each study program;
  - g) Evaluating the success of student studies in accordance with the provisions of the evaluation stage and making reports and recommendations about students who need to receive academic warnings and who do not meet the requirements of each evaluation stage to the Head of the Study Program in relation to the possibility of termination of study.
  - h) Consulting students with the Badan Konsultasi Mahasiswa (BKM = Student Consultative Board) through the applicable procedures.

I. Education administration

1. Lectures

a. General Lecture Terms

- 1) In one semester of study, conducted with several provision 14 times lectures with notes: course which has 2 credits @100 minutes per lectures; course which has 3 credits @150 minutes per lectures; course which has 4 credits @200 minutes per lectures.
- 2) Lectures that are carried out less than the provisions as written in point (1) cannot be tested.
- 3) Lectures provisions
  - a) All of the students including remedial students are obligated to attend 75 percent of the total lectures in a semester course.
  - b) Students are obligated to complete lecture assignments.
- 4) General provisions apply to both face-to-face (offline) and long-distance (online) lectures.

b. Evaluation System

Educational evaluation is carried out to determine the success of student studies. Evaluation takes place on an ongoing basis in the form of Mid-Term Test, Post-Term Test, practical examinations or completion of tasks. Examinations are a way to assess student's understanding and mastery of lecture materials that have been presented for one semester. Examinations are also a way to assess the accuracy of lecture materials with the syllabus and presentation techniques. To ensure the quality of learning, students are required to evaluate learning before filling out the IRS.

2. Single Sign On (SSO)

Lectures at the Faculty of Humanities at Diponegoro University are integrated with the Single Sign On (SSO) email which has been implemented for the Diponegoro University academic community since August 2019. SSO is an integrated system that connects the Diponegoro University academic community with several information resources and Information and Technology (IT) provided by Diponegoro University. The service was created with the aim of making it easier for users to carry out IT-based academic activities, including the lecture process.

To access this service, the Diponegoro University academic community must have an SSO account, which can be obtained through registration at the faculty implementer or <http://helpdesk.undip.ac.id> by including the Nomor Induk Pegawai (NIP = Employee Identification Number) for lecturers and education staff, the Nomor Induk Kepegawaian (NIK = Employment Identification Number) for contract workers, Nomor Induk Mahasiswa (NIM = Student Identification Number) for students accompanied by an active mobile number and email. The guide to using SSO can be seen at the link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=y-ucq1rlPyA>. After the registration process is successful, the Undip academic community will have their respective accounts as follows: @lecturer.undip.ac.id for lecturers; @staff.undip.ac.id for education staff, and @students.undip.ac.id for students.

After having an SSO account, the Diponegoro University academic community can access all services provided by Diponegoro University, starting from the Sistem Informasi Akademik, Penelitian, dan Pengabdian (SIAP = Academic Information System, Research, and Service), Kulon Undip (Online Lectures) either through applications developed by the Diponegoro University IT team and Microsoft Teams. In addition, through the SSO account, the Diponegoro University academic community can access e-journals subscribed to by Undip, ranging from Scopus, Elsevier, Proquest, and any other. Diponegoro University has also built a system that maximizes IT resources to conduct distance learning and teaching processes using two main platforms, namely Microsoft Teams and Kulon Undip (Online Lectures). The Diponegoro University academic community can also hold lectures, seminars, and workshops through the Microsoft Teams platform, Zoom (<http://zoom.us>), Google Classroom (<https://classroom.google.com>), and Edmodo (<https://new.edmodo.com>).

3. Examination type and the Execution

a. Mid-Term Test

- 1) The Mid-Term test has a written and oral component and is given after 7 lecture sessions.
- 2) The Mid-Term Test is unscheduled and the implementation is given to each Academic Adviser through coordination with the academic section.

b. Post Term Test

- 1) To be able to take the Post Term Test, students are required to attend at least 75 percent of the lectures.
- 2) The Post Term Test has a written and oral component and is given after 14 lecture sessions.
- 3) The Post Term Test is scheduled by the faculty, except for certain courses that are not possible for the examinations.

    - (3) The essay is judged by the Tim Penguji Ujian Komprehensif.
    - (4) If the essay does not meet the requirements, the student must revise it until it is declared passed.
  - h) Students who are not present at the scheduled comprehensive test without vivid reasons, they are declared failed and must repeat the test application no later than one week from the date of the test that cannot take place.
  - i) Tim Penguji Ujian Komprehensif consists of at least three people with a minimum education of Masters (S2) with functional positions, at least an expert assistant or equivalent competence.
  - j) Tim Penguji Ujian Komprehensif obliged to fill the score as same as on the form.
  - k) Students who take the comprehensive test are required to wear a white top and black trousers/skirt.
  - l) The test is held in a panel trial forum.
- e. Thesis Test
- The final test is carried out according to the strata level, both Doctoral Degree (Dissertation Exam), Master Degree (Thesis Exam), and Bachelor Degree (Thesis Exam). Students who are entitled to take the final test are students who have finished compiling a dissertation and thesis and have received approval from the Academic Adviser. Then, students submit an application to the Head of the Study Program by filling out a test registration form by including the following requirements.
- 1) Copy of last IRS and KHS;
  - 2) Score transcript;
  - 3) Copy of valid KTM;
  - 4) Copy of English Proficiency Test result (for example: TOEFL) with a score that is in accordance with the provisions of the Master Degree Study Program in the Faculty of Humanities;
  - 5) Thesis consultation sheet and the approval signed by the Academic Adviser;
  - 6) Dissertation and thesis that have been approved as many as 4 or 5 copies (according to the provisions of the Study Program), provided in 70 gr A4 paper, light blue cover, bound in plain/soft cover;
  - 7) Those requirements must be submitted to the Study Program no later than 2 weeks before the specified test date;
  - 8) Fill out the administration application book for the test with the specified date and examiner.
  - 9) Specific rules can be found in the manual of each Study Program.

The details of each final test are as follows.

a. Dissertation Test

The dissertation test is the last series of tests in the Doctoral Degree Study Program (S3). Based on Peraturan Rektor Undip Nomor 5 Tahun 2020 tentang Peraturan Akademik Bidang Pendidikan Program Pascasarjana Universitas Diponegoro Beserta Perubahannya Pasal 34 No. 2, the test process starts from the Ujian Seminar Susulan (Proposed Seminar)/Proposal Penelitian (Research Proposal), Ujian Seminar Hasil Penelitian Disertasi (the Dissertation Research Result Seminar Test), Ujian Penilaian Kelayakan Naskah Disertasi (the Dissertation Manuscript Feasibility Assessment Test), and the Ujian Tertutup (Closed Test). The details are as follows.

(1) Ujian Seminar Susulan/Proposal Penelitian

Ujian Seminar Susulan/Proposal Penelitian (Proposed Seminar/Research Proposal) examination is a dissertation proposal test designed by students. This exam aims to determine the academic feasibility of the dissertation design. The test is carried out in private provided that it has obtained approval from the Tim Pembimbing (Advisory Team) and the Head of the Study Program. The Advisory Team consists of supervisors and 1 (one) to 2 (two) examiners.

(2) Ujian Seminar Hasil Penelitian Disertasi

Ujian Seminar Hasil Penelitian Disertasi (The Dissertation Research Result Seminar Test) is conducted after the student has completed with the provision that the research report manuscript has been approved by the Advisory Team and the Head of the Study Program. The Advisory Team consists of supervisors and 1 (one) to 2 (two) examiners.

(3) Ujian Penilaian Kelayakan Naskah Disertasi

(The Dissertation Eligibility Assessment Test) is carried out after the student completes the dissertation manuscript which is approved by the Advisory Team/Promoter and the Head of the Study Program. This test is conducted by a feasibility assessment team consisting of 5 (five) to 6 (six) examiners, chairperson of the session (Dean/Chairman of the Study Program) and examiners including 1 (one) external examiner.

(4) Ujian Tertutup

Ujian Tertutup (Closed Test) is carried out after the dissertation manuscript is approved by the Tim Promotor (Promoter Team) and the Head of the Study Program. The test team consists of 5 (five) to 6 (six) examiners, including 1 (one) external examiner from outside Diponegoro University.

b. Thesis Test

The thesis test is the last series of examinations in the Master Degree Study Program (S2). Based on Peraturan Rektor No. 5 Tahun 2020 tentang Peraturan Akademik Bidang Pendidikan Program Pascasarjana Universitas Diponegoro Beserta Perubahannya Pasal 34 No. 1, the test process starts from the Ujian Seminar Usulan/Proposal Penelitian (Proposal Seminar/Research Proposal Examination), Ujian Seminar Hasil Penelitian Tesis (Thesis Research Result Seminar Examination), and Ujian Tesis (Thesis Examination). The details are as follows.

(1) Ujian Seminar Usulan/Proposal Penelitian

Ujian Seminar Usulan/Proposal Penelitian (Proposal Seminar/Research Proposal Examination) is a type of thesis proposal examination that is designed by the students. This test aims to determine thesis design academic feasibility. The test will be conducted if it has obtained an Advisory Team and the Head of the Study Program approval. The testing team consists of supervisors and 1 (one) to 2 (two) examiners

(2) Ujian Seminar Hasil Penelitian Tesis

Ujian Seminar Hasil Penelitian Tesis (Thesis Research Result Seminar Examination) is conducted after the student has completed the research and the research report manuscript has been approved by the Advisory Team and the Head of the Study Program. The Advisory Team consists of supervisors and 1 (one) to 2 (two) examiners.

(3) Ujian Tesis

Thesis tests are conducted after students complete the thesis manuscript which is approved by the Advisory Team. The Advisory Team consists of supervisors and 2 (two) to 3 (three) examiners

c. Ujian Skripsi (Thesis Test)

Thesis test is the final examination in the Bachelor Degree Study Program (S1). The examination is carried out with the following conditions.

- (1) Bachelor Degree Study Program (S1) students who are entitled to take the thesis examination if they have passed the comprehensive test (for study programs that conduct a comprehensive test).
- (2) The Thesis Test is carried out orally in approximately 90 minutes, in front of the Tim Penguji Ujian Tesis (Thesis Test Examiner Team), with a minimum grace time period of 6 days after passing the comprehensive examination
- (3) Tim Penguji Ujian Tesis (The Thesis Test Examiner Team) is formed by the department with a Surat Keputusan Dekan (Decree of the Dean), consisting of a head and at least two or three members.
- (4) The Head of the Tim Penguji Ujian Tesis (Thesis Test Examiner Team) has at least the functional position of Lector with a Masters Degree (S2). Member of the Tim Penguji Ujian Tesis (Thesis Test Examiner Team) with a position as Lector or Expert Assistant who already has a Masters Degree (S2) education. If there are other things, then adjust the conditions of the Department/Study Program.
- (5) The Academic Adviser for Thesis Test directly becomes a member of the Tim Penguji Ujian Tesis (Thesis Examination Examiner Team).
- (6) Thesis test can be held if attended by at least two examiners and each gives scores.
- (7) The examination is considered valid if it has been officially opened by the head of the Examiner Team.
- (8) Tim Penguji Ujian Tesis (The Thesis Test Examiner Team) has the right to decide whether or not the thesis is worthy of being tested.
- (9) Thesis which the Tim Penguji Ujian Tesis (Thesis Examination Examiner Team) has declared does not pass for testing, the test is postponed until repairs are made under the guidance of the Academic Adviser and declared eligible for testing by the concerned Tim Penguji Ujian Tesis (Thesis Test Examiner Team).
- (10) Examiners are required to fill in the score according to the assessment form.
- (11) Students are declared to have passed the Thesis Test if the average score from the examiners is at least C point and completes thesis revision less than one month or one month before graduation. If in one month the student does not revise, the student must re-examine according to applicable regulations.
- (12) If the thesis test fails, the concerned student is given the opportunity to repeat for maximum two times.
- (13) The first re-examination is carried out at least one month from the first execution of the Thesis test.
- (14) The second re-examination is carried out at least one month from the first execution of the first Thesis Test re-examination.
- (15) Students who do not attend the Thesis test without clear reasons are declared canceled, and the time for the next test is determined by the Tim Penguji (Examiner Team).
- (16) Thesis test assessment is written in numbers and letters.
- (17) Students who take the Thesis test are required to wear white top and black trousers/skirt and Diponegoro University alma mater jackets.
- (18) The test is held in a panel trial forum.
- (19) Study programs that have a non-thesis regulation are required to regulate the internal test mechanism.

4. Scoring System

a. Obtained Scores in College

Lecturers have the authority to give assessments, it is recommended to use a combination approach to Penilaian Acuan Patokan (PAP = Benchmark Reference Assessment), or Penilaian Acuan Norma (PAN = Norm Referenced Assessment).

- 1) The test results score is written in letters and the score load is as follows.

A	=	4	= 80 - 100
B	=	3	= 70 - 79
C	=	2	= 60 - 69
D	=	1	= 40 - 59
E	=	0	< 40

*Students who get D or E scores should do remedial,
C is the minimum score

- 2) The percentage of the score load assessment consists of:
  - a) Assignment/practice 50%
  - b) Mid-Term test 25%
  - c) Post-Term test 25%
- 3) The results of the test scores are announced through SIAP UNDIR.
- 4) Students who get a D score can take remedial before graduation, which is carried out directly by the lecturer in the relevant subject.
- 5) Assessment method
  - a) Penilaian Acuan Patokan (PAP = Benchmark Reference Assessment) is an assessment based on certain criteria according to the examiner's method. For example, the examiner method states that in order to pass, a student must master at least 50 percent of the teaching materials. This means that the examiner gives a minimum pass limit of 5 (on a scale of 10) or 50 (on a scale of 100) which is converted to the letter D. And so on, the value of 6 or 60 is converted to the value of the letter C.
  - b) Penilaian Acuan Norma (PAN = Norm Referenced Assessment) is a system used to assess student abilities relative to the abilities of other students in the same class, so that the achievements of all students in the class are used as a basis for assessment. In this case, the assumption is used that in a group of students who are large enough, there must be varying abilities. The group of students with very good abilities was given an A score. The group of students who entered the good group was given a B score, those with sufficient ability were given a C score. The D score was given to the group with less ability and must be given remedial opportunities until the score was declared passed.

b. Comprehensive Score, Dissertation, Thesis and Final Project

A comprehensive test is held by the Japanese Language and Culture Study Program with material for mastering written and spoken Japanese as well as mastering specialization materials (Japanese linguistics, literature, and culture).

The Components of Assessment for Dissertation, Thesis and Final Projects for all study programs include the following main points.

- a) Substance
- b) Language and writing technique
- c) Presentation
- d) Scores declared in numbers and letters

5. Study Results Evaluation

a. Achievement Index

Indeks prestasi (IP = achievement index) is in the form of numbers 1 - 4 which states the level of success of student studies at the end of the semester. Achievement index / grade point is obtained by calculating the total credit score of all courses multiplied by the Nilai Bobot (NB = load), then divided by the total credit score of all courses taken.

How to calculate IP :
------------------------------

$$IP = \frac{\text{Kredit Nilai (KN = credit score) cumulative}}{\text{Credit cumulative}}$$

The IP at the end of the study program is in the form of GPA which is calculated based on the number of IPs each semester. The IP obtained by students in one semester is the basis for calculating the number of courses that can be taken in the following semester. A high IP allows students to take or take many of the courses offered in the following semester.

Example of IP calculation:

Courses	NK	NH	NB	KN
Pancasila education	2	A	4	8 (2x4)
Indonesian	2	B	3	6 (2x3)
Philology 1	2	A	4	8 (2x4)
Entrepreneurship	3	C	2	6 (2x3)
Indonesian History	3	C	2	6 (2x3)
English 2	2	B	3	6 (2x3)
Total	14			40
IP = 40 : 14 = 2.85

NK = Nilai Kredit (Score Credit)

NH = Nilai Huruf (Letter Score)

NB = Nilai Bobot (Score Load)

KN = Kredit Nilai (Credit Score)

b. Score Load and Graduation Predicate

1) Score Load

Score Load declared with letters (A, B, C, D and E) with the following calculations:

Numeric Score Range	Letters Score	Letter Score Load
≥ 80	A	4,00
70-79	B	3,00
60-69	C	2,00
51-59	D	1,00
≤ 50	E	0,00

Each score component entered in the Test Score List should be a numerical score. The combination of several component scores is processed into a final score in numbers, and then converted into letter scores.

2) Graduation Predicate

The graduation predicate that states the success rate of student studies is based on the IP at the end of the study program. Every student participating in the Doctoral, Masters, and Bachelor Degree Study Programs is declared to have passed in a graduation forum which is conducted unprivate based on a final assessment that shows academic achievement during education at the Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University.

The cumlaude graduation predicate is determined by taking into account the study period, which is a maximum of 6 semesters with an A dissertation score for Doctoral (S3), 5 semesters with A thesis score for Masters (S2), and 9 semesters with A thesis/final assignment scores for Bachelors (S1). The study period is calculated from the scheduled study period (n semesters) plus 1 (one) semester, there is no C score and TOEFL scores for Bachelor is 400. Especially for S1 English Literature is 500, for Master is 450, and for Doctoral is 500. Graduate predicate who does not meet the provision was lowered one level of the predicate to be satisfactory.

At the end of the education program, students are declared to have completed his studies if they manage to collect 42-50 credits for Doctoral Degree Study Program (S3), 36-42 credits for Master Degree Study Program (S2), and 144-160 SKS for Bachelor Degree Study Program (S1). Dissertation scores, theses and final assignments, will be added to the GPA as mentioned above. It should be noted that other conditions are as follows.

- a) Pass the dissertation test and dissertation eligibility test for the Doctoral Degree Study program (S3);
- b) Pass the research results seminar test and thesis for the Master Degree Study Program (S2);
- c) Pass the comprehensive test and thesis for the Bachelor Degree Study Program (S1).

c. Evaluation Criteria for Each Stage

1. Study Improvement Evaluation for Doctoral Degree Study Program (S3)

Evaluation of student study improvement is carried out in stages as follows.

- a) At the end of semester 4, students should have passed all of the courses given with at least 3,00 in GPA, proposal test, and Seminar Hasil Penelitian (Research Results Seminar).
- b) At the end of semester 9, students have to publish a scientific journal article, eligibility test, and dissertation test.
- c) If the evaluation stages referred to in a) and b) are not met, the students can submit their resignation and if the suggestion for resignation is not carried out within three months from the end of the evaluation stage, a drop out decree will be proposed to the Chancellor.

2. Study Improvement Evaluation for Master Degree Study Program (S2)

Evaluation of student study improvement is carried out in stages as follows.

- a) At the end of semester 4, students should have passed all of the courses given with at least 3,00 in GPA and Proposal Penelitian Tesis (Thesis Research Proposal) test (seminar).
- b) At the end of semester 4, students should have taken Jurnal Penelitian (Research Results) (journal articles) test (seminars).
- c) If the evaluation stages referred to in a) and b) are not met, the students can submit their resignation and if the suggestion for resignation is not carried out within three months from the end of the evaluation stage, a drop out decree will be proposed to the Chancellor.
- d) Students are declared to have passed the Masters Program if:
  - 1) Have taken and declared to have passed the Thesis Test;
  - 2) Minimum GPA of 3,00;
  - 3) Collect thesis revisions that have been approved by the examiner team before graduation.

3. Study Improvement Evaluation for Bachelor Degree Study Program (S1)

Evaluation of student study improvement is carried out in stages as follows.

- a) The evaluation criteria for each stage are as follows.
  - 1) Phase I is carried out at the end of semester 3 (three) with the following conditions:
    - (a) Able to collect at least 35 credits with GPA at least 2.50;

- (b) If the students are able to collect > 35 credits, but the GPA is < 2.50, the highest score is taken up to 35 credits with a GPA  $\geq$  2.50.
- 2) Phase II is carried out at the end of semester 7 (seven) with the following conditions:
  - (a) Able to collect at least 85 credits with GPA at least 2.75;
  - (b) If the students are able to collect > 85 credits, but the GPA is < 2.75, the highest score is taken up to 35 credits with a GPA  $\geq$  2.75.
- 3) Phase III is carried out at the end of program:

At the latest by the end of the fourteenth (14th) semester, students must have collected (passed) all the credits specified for the Undergraduate Program.
- b) Students will get an academic warning from the Vice Dean I every semester if in doubt they can go through each evaluation stage.
- c) Successfully Completing Studies

Students are declared successful in completing the Bachelor Degree Study Program, which is stated in the graduation if they have met the following academic requirements.

  - (1) Have submitted the final project/thesis or revision of the final project/thesis that has passed anti-plagiarism detection with certain applications;
  - (2) Has been responsible for the final project / thesis in front of the examiner/examiner team;
  - (3) Does not exceed the maximum study period arranged by the university and is an active student in that semester;
  - (4) Has accomplished all of the administrative obligation including returning all of the borrowed library/laboratorium items.
  - (5) Have accomplished all obligations during the study period and/or assigned tasks in accordance with the curriculum arranged for the study program (including the revised final project) and do not have a D grade on academic transcripts.
  - (6) Has uploaded a summary of the final project / thesis on the Undip repository.

6. Score Remedial

Score remedial can be done through:

1) Remedial Test

Remedial Test done through some of the following provisions:

- a) Students have to take the related course and fulfill the components of the end-semester evaluation which include: Assignments, Mid-Semester Test and Post-Term Semester Test.
- b) Students with grades D, C, and B can make improvements in the regular semester, or remedial in the current semester, or repair in the intermediate semester and the score used is the best score.

2) Remedial Lectures

Remedial Lectures are carried out through these following statements.

- a) The student has taken the relevant course.
- b) Students have met the end-of-semester evaluation components (Assignments, Mid-Term Test and Post-Term Test).
- c) Students take remedial lectures with a minimum attendance of 75%.
- d) Available for students with grades B, C, D, and E.
- e) Fill out KRS for remedial lectures.
- f) The names of students who take part in the remedial lectures are marked on the lecture attendance list to make it easier to check.

7. Dissertation, Thesis and Final Project Preparation

1) Dissertation Preparation

The dissertation preparation is carried out after the student is declared to have passed the proposal exam in the second semester. The dissertation is written under the guidance of the promoter and co-promoter determined by the Study Program in accordance with scientific qualifications and applicable academic requirements.

2) Thesis Preparation

At the end of second semester, students should have prepared a thesis proposal that will be displayed in the third semester seminar. The thesis proposal that has been approved by the Head of Study Program can be submitted in a thesis proposal seminar. The provisions for the content of the thesis, writing techniques, thesis guidance, and procedures for the preparation of the thesis are regulated in separate guidelines delivered by each Study Programs.

3) Thesis/Final Project Preparation

The preparation of the thesis/final project is mandatory for Bachelor Degree Study Program students. The technical provisions regarding the preparation of the thesis are regulated by each study program.

(a) Thesis/Final Project Meaning

Thesis/final project is a scientific essay prepared by the students to fulfill the requirements for taking the Bachelor Degree Study Program (S1) test.

(b) Purpose

The preparation of the thesis/final project is intended to determine the student's ability to conduct research on a problem and to account for the thesis/final project scientifically.

(c) Thesis/Final Project Submission

Submission of thesis proposal/final project is done with the following conditions.

- (1) Students have already passed for the minimum 120 credits.
- (2) Thesis proposal submitted by the students to the Head of Study Program in the form of research design that include: designed thesis/final project title, discussed topics, research purpose, theoretical basis, thesis writing systematics and bibliography.
- (3) The research design will be discussed by the study program or reviewer team, so that it is decided whether or not the concerned student can work on it. If the research design is approved, the Head of the Study Program will appoint a supervisor according to his field of expertise.

(d) Preparation

The preparation of the thesis and the final project is based on the following provisions.

- (1) Referring to the each study program guidelines for writing the thesis/final project;
- (2) Minimum number of pages is 60 pages, typed in double space on A4 size paper (21 x 28.5 cm) with Times New Roman font type, 12 pt.
- (3) It is recommended that the thesis/final project be replaced with a new topic if for 12 (twelve months) students do not show progress on their writing.

4) Dissertation, Thesis, and Thesis/Final Project Guidance

The supervision of dissertations, theses, and thesis/final assignments are carried out as follows.

- (a) In the preparation of dissertations, theses, and theses/final assignments, each student is guided by a maximum of two (2) lecturers;
- (b) Advisor (promoter and co-promoter) dissertation with a doctoral degree and the title of Professor and/or doctorate;
- (c) Thesis advisor is an advisor with Doctoral Degree;
- (d) Main thesis advisors are:
  - (1) Permanent lecturer with a minimum functional position of lector and a Master's degree or expert assistant with a Doctoral degree;
  - (2) Have a field of expertise relevant to the thesis/final project;
- (e) The provision of the second advisor:
  - (1) University permanent lecturers or non-permanent lecturers, or experts from other institutions which are equivalent to master's education;
  - (2) Have a field of expertise relevant to the thesis/final project;
- (f) The person in charge of the study program organizer assigns a Academic Adviser for a student based on the expertise and workload of the concerned lecturer;
- (g) The assignment of the Academic Adviser is determined by the Dean's Decree;

- (h) To ensure the quality of guidance, the workload of lecturers in guiding structured research in the context of preparing the thesis/final project is a maximum of 12 (twelve) students per semester;
- (i) The person in charge of the study program organizer periodically assists the mentoring process and if the mentoring process does not go well and regularly, the person in charge of the study program organizer may propose the replacement of the Academic Adviser;
- (j) Guidance is carried out in a structured campus environment, at least 4 (four) times in one semester, and must be recorded in the guidance book.

5) Dissertation, Thesis, and Thesis/Final Project Test

Dissertation, thesis and thesis examinations are carried out through the following procedures:

- (a) The dissertation that has been compiled and approved by the promotor and co-promoter is duplicated as many as 6 (six) copies and has been bound in soft cover, then submitted to the academic section.
- (b) The thesis that has been compiled and approved by the Academic Adviser is duplicated as many as 4 (four) copies and has been bound in soft cover, then submitted to the academic section.
- (c) Thesis/Final Project that has been compiled and approved by the testing team, put in the stopmap and has been bound in soft cover, then submitted to the academic section.
- (d) To take the dissertation test, students should have been declared pass the dissertation eligibility test.
- (e) To take the thesis test, students should have passed all courses with the minimum of B score.
- (f) To take the thesis/final project test, students should have passed all courses with the minimum of C score.
- (g) Simultaneously with the submission of the dissertation/thesis/final project test, the students submit a letter of application for the examination to the Dean with a copy to the Head of Department/Head of Study Program.
- (h) Based on the application letter, the Dean asked the department/study program to determine the day, date, and time and place of the exam.
- (i) To carry out the test, Tim Penguji (Examiner Team) was formed with the Dean's Decree. For the dissertation test, the examiner team consists of:
  - (1) The Dean also become the Head of Examiner at the same time;
  - (2) Promotor and co-promoter also become examiner member at the same time;
  - (3) Internal examiner (2 people) also become examiner member at the same time;
  - (4) External examiner also become examiner member at the same time;

For thesis and final project tests, the examiner team consists of:

- (1) A Chairman also become a member at the same time;
- (2) 2 members, each of them is Examiner I and Examiner II
- (3) One/two other members as examiners.
- (j) Dissertation, Thesis, Final Project tests are conducted orally in a closed forum.
- (k) The entire test lasts a minimum of 60 (sixty) minutes and a maximum of 120 (one hundred and twenty) minutes.
- (l) Test dress code:
  - (1) At the moment of the test, students should wear neat and appropriate attire. White shirt and black/dark trousers for male and white shirt and white skirt for female.
  - (2) Female students that wear veils should show their face.
- (m) Revision provisions: dissertations, theses, and theses a maximum of one month from the implementation of the test.

6) Graduation

The implementation, requirements, and procedures for graduation are carried out with the following procedures:

- (a) Diponegoro University conducts graduation ceremonies as many as four times in a year.
- (b) Students who have been declared to have passed Diponegoro University Faculty of Humanities Doctoral Degree, and Master Degree, and Bachelor Degree are required to register for the graduation held at the university level.
- (c) Prospective graduates who are entitled to attend the graduation ceremony must meet the applicable administrative requirements.

- (d) Every graduate is obligated to pay the cost of holding the graduation ceremony, the amount of which is determined by the Chancellor.
- (e) Prospective graduates who are unable to attend the graduation ceremony must report to the committee to be forwarded to the university graduation committee.
- (f) Prospective graduates who are unable to attend as mentioned in point (e), are not justified in transferring their rights to attend the university level graduation ceremony in the next graduation ceremony period.

7) Guidance and Counseling

- a) For all the students who have academic problems, guidance and counseling will be conducted at the faculty/study program level.
- b) Guidance and counseling executor at the faculty/study program level is Pembimbing Akademik or Badan Konsultasi Mahasiswa Fakultas (BKMF). The BKMF structure and organization will be further regulated by the Dean's decree.
- c) If the guidance and counseling at the faculty is not sufficient to solve the problem, the student is recommended/referred to the Badan Konsultasi Mahasiswa Universitas (BKMU).

8) Graduation Predicate

The graduation predicate for Doctoral (S3), Master (S2), and Bachelor (S1) Degree Study Programs are as follows:

Program	GPA	Predicate	Description
Bachelor Degree	2,25 - 2,75	Satisfactory
	2,76 - 3,50	Exceptional Satisfactory
	3,51 - 4,0	Cum Laude	The maximum study period is 9 (nine) semesters, there is no C score on the transcript, and the minimum TOEFL score is 450
Master	3,00 - 3,40	Satisfactory
	3,41 - 3,70	Exceptional Satisfactory
	3,71 - 4,00	Cum Laude	The maximum study period is 5 (five) semesters with a thesis score of A
Doctoral	3,00 - 3,49	Satisfactory
	3,50 - 3,74	Exceptional Satisfactory
	3,75 - 4,00	Cum Laude	The maximum study period is 8 (eight) semesters with a dissertation score of A

Notes:

The Chancellor gives a certificate award to graduates with cum laude predicate only to students who from the beginning attended education at Diponegoro University in related study programs.

J. Academic Violations

a. Minor Academic Violations

(1) Cheating

Cheating is an attempt, intentionally or unintentionally, to use or try to use information materials or other study aids without the permission of the lecturer concerned in the examination activities.

a) Cheating help or cheating attempt

Cheating help or cheating attempt is an act that defends the rules, consciously or unconsciously, helping cheating attempt or cheating attempt itself by providing materials that will violate the academic minorly.

b) Inclusion in minor academic violences

Inclusion in minor academic violences is an act that defends the rules, whether it is consciously or unconsciously done, work in a team to cooperate or participate in committing or ordering actions that cause minor academic violations to occur.

c) Minor administrative and disciplinary violations

Minor administrative and disciplinary violations is an act that defends the rules, whether consciously or unconsciously done, either alone or in cooperation, by committing acts that are contrary to the provisions of the rules and administration released by the faculty and/or study program.

b. Moderate Academic Violations

(1) Jockey

Jockey is an act that defends the rules, intentionally or unintentionally, to replace the position of another person in academic activities.

(2) Jockey helping

Jockey helping is an act that defends the rules, intentionally or unintentionally, assists or tries to help provide facilities or infrastructure that can lead to jockeying.

(3) Inclusion in Jockey

Inclusion in Jockey is an act that defends the rules, intentionally or unintentionally, to cooperate or participate in doing or ordering to do acts that cause jockeying.

(4) Moderate Administration and Rules Violations

Moderate Administration and Rules Violations is an act that defends the rules, intentionally or unintentionally, whether it is alone or in cooperation dne acts that is contrary with rules and regulations issued by the University

c. Serious Academic Violations

A. Background

Generally speaking, historians play an important role in advancing the quality of humanity and building character and also the identity of a nation. Throughout their creations, historians can set people's mind free from ignorance, manipulation, and history embezzlement will be able to create confusion which later on brings impact on how people resolve nowadays issues and could lead into a failure for the nation's future. In other words, historians play an important role in awakening historical consciousness, which means whatever happened in the past could affect the present time and the future. At the national level, historical consciousness is a very vital thing, because it is related to the appreciation of the nation's children towards the past as collective memory (Hughes, 1964:1-21). The nation's children who have the consciousness of history will seek for recent issues' answers not only by learning history, but also learning from history.

In the middle of massive globalization, the development which is much more sophisticated towards the history in the college is something so urgent for Indonesia currently. It is related to the huge transformation in the Reformation era which was followed by several political crises in every aspect of life that threatened national integrity.

Research and historical learning can function as the medium of socialization and the menaced nation's cultural values in that kind of national situation. The identity and the character of the nation also face a great attack. Research and historical learning will provide well-built amenities for the rest of the nation's children to face the change cleverly, by understanding correctly and at the end will be able to receive and to actualize the cultural values which are suitable with the identity and the character. So, comprehending and historical consciousness is essential for resolving present issues and in the future. In this case, the role of historians as the past narrators become necessary. If the historians cannot elucidate recent problems and situations, in result, the community will be unsuccessful in comprehending recent issues which also affect the future.

The need for reliable historian education in terms of attempting to find an alternative for writing history who is able to give a solution to the nation's problem which is still trying to fight for its existence is needed. It is needed for a long-term attempt to do research which can be used to awaken the historical consciousness, actual and also futural for all of the Indonesian, and later on, to raise the spirit to be free from the unsolved cases. According to Michael Howard' statement: "The study of history has been believed to provide a guide, not simply to passive understanding of the world, but to active political and moral action within it" (Michael Howard, 1991). With a critical history education, it will be resulting historical research which can take part as historical writing that can freed the community' state of mind toward the past from the ignorance, falsity, myths, manipulation, and actual misinterpretation about the past, so they will be so spirited to solve the case which is face, or will be faced by Indonesia.

Bear in mind how complex the problems are, so the bachelor degree and the master degree cannot be expected to fully accomplish the issues. In this perspective framework, a higher education is needed. In accordance with that issue, Diponegoro University on September 20th 2016 has opened a Doctoral Degree for History Study Program in the Faculty of Humanities (PSDS FIB Undip) through the Rector's Letter of Statement number 1125/UN7.P/HK/2016. ## A. Latar Belakang

The sophistication and development of historical science are urgently necessary for Indonesia. This is not because of the past or for the past incidents, but of the current and future incidents that occurred. At least two reasons described the urgency. Firstly, it is related to the massive changes occurring in the life of nations and states currently. Second, it relates to the current economic, political, and sociocultural crisis that threatened the nation's existence and integration.

History pedagogy could also be used as a form of socialization and enculturation of social and cultural values that are existed in society. With these processes, the scholars are expected to experience changes in comprehending and internalizing as well as implementing social values that are upheld and expected by society. Their roles must be reflected in their daily living basis in the middle of society and nation. By learning history, the scholars also expected to be able to proportionately place themselves accordingly and utilized the historical values for the current issue, and predict possible incidents in the future.

The current crucial issue of Indonesia is regarding the nation's continuity itself on the possibility of Indonesia maintaining the form even until the future. This basic issue requires a huge commitment from all society of Indonesia to stay and undergo their lives in Indonesia. However, this issue is also unique by itself due to its existence that is latent. The issue then is not only talking about the past but also about the current and the future of the nation as well.

A good comprehension of Indonesia's history on the right track could base mankind to be able to position itself on an international scale. As international relation also requires a better understanding of the relation of one country to another was created in diverse sectors that could bring betterment and improvement to Indonesia.

Based on that, the development of historical study in institutions, especially in higher education (master program), is necessary to significantly study and evaluate past issues for the current and future. Under this perspective then constructed the creation of the Master Program in History of the Faculty of Humanities of Diponegoro University became highly urgent to be done with excellence in historical, maritime culture, and national integration as the concentration.

A. History

The undergraduate history study program was established in 1972, based on the work of the sub-consortium of literature and philosophy. At that time, the Senate of Faculty of Literature and Culture (now changed as Faculty of Humanities) at Diponegoro University, in the May 18th, 1972's conference, decided to establish a Department of History. The decision was made under the consideration of creating and producing undergraduates scholars who master in the culture and history of Indonesia, which is in line with the establishment of the Faculty of Literature and Culture. The undergraduates' scholars produced are expected to have the ability to research and expand more knowledge about Indonesia's culture and introduce it in the international sphere.

In 1973, the Department of History only established the undergraduate program due to the limitation of lecturers. Department of History then changed its name to a history major and established the doctoral program in 1977. At first, history majors only had one study program, so it is identical to being called a Study Program in Indonesian History. Study Program in Indonesian History was established based on General Director of Higher Education Decree number 111/dikti/kep/2007 on August 31st, 2007, on types and study programs in every major in the faculty of Diponegoro University. This study program stands under the History Major of the Faculty of Literature of Diponegoro University which is located in Jl. Prof. Soedarto, S.H. Kampus Tembalang Semarang. The study program then already developed in number and quality of lecturers and graduates.

Study Program in Indonesian History is committed to always following every knowledge trend and fulfilling the needs of stakeholders based on the job market. Hence, the curriculum used is always being reviewed and developed based on the market signal. The accreditation processes of the Study Program in History are as follows, on August 11th, 1998 based on BAN-PT (National Accreditation Body of Higher Education) number 001/ban-pt/ak-i/viii/1998, it was accredited B; on 2003, based on BAN-PT Decree number 05978/ak.vii.s1-033/udeiqh/ix/2003, it was accredited A; on 2009, it was accredited A based on BAN-PT Decree number 035/ban-pt/ak-xi/s1/2009; on 2014, it was also accredited A based on BAN-PT Decree number 483/sk/ban-pt/akred/s/xii/2014; and on 2019, it was accredited A again based on BAN-PT Decree number 4033/sk/ban-pt/akred/s/x/2019 that will be available until October 23rd, 2024. In response to changes in nomenclature according to the available terms, the study program's name also changed. ### C. Program and Education System

Study Program in History is part of the Department of History. This department is the only department in the Faculty of Humanities of Diponegoro University that owned a complete series of education levels available such as undergraduate and postgraduates (masters and doctoral) since 2017/2018. Study Program in History focused the study on the excellence of maritime history and culture. This study program experienced interesting development phases in its curriculum used. In 2020, there were two curricula utilized in the learning process. First, the curriculum of 2017 was constructed based on the early 2017 workshop as the perfection of the curriculum of 2012. This means it omitted some of the courses in the curriculum of 2013 but added some in the curriculum of 2017 as well.

The curriculum of 2017 is divided into eight semesters. In the overall metrics, it consisted of 71 courses with 160-course credits. The subsections are as follows; 57 compulsory courses and 14 optional courses; with 132-course credits for compulsory courses and 28-course credits for optional courses. In the curriculum of 2017, scholars are not only focused on the college learning process but also obliged to join Field Work Lecture (KKL) to implement and grasp the real-life circumstance on the ground based on the theories conquered. To finish their study period, scholars of the Study Program in History ought to complete 144-course credits and worked on their undergraduate thesis afterward. The submission of the undergraduate thesis proposal could only be done when the scholars have completed 120-course credits to be able to take the undergraduate thesis course in the 7th semester after they passed the seminar proposal course in the 6th semester.

Secondly, the curriculum of 2020 or often called the Curriculum of College Freedom is applicated for batch 2020 until 2024. Based on the spirit of the curriculum, the education system in this curriculum is designed to be in line with the policy of Learning Freedom that was enacted by the Minister of Education and Culture, Nadiem Makarim. This curriculum was created to actualize the learning process in higher education to be autonomous and flexible, which is expected to develop innovation, and the creativity of the scholars and could assist scholars' needs. This policy also aimed to better link and match scholars with the demanded qualification in the job markets. Through this policy, Study Program in History constructed an innovative learning process for scholars to conquer optimal educational achievements. Scholars are free to take course credits outside the study program for two semesters that can be taken from the other study program inside or outside the higher education institution.

The Curriculum of College Freedom was based on the Minister of Education and Culture Regulation no. 3 of 2020 on Higher Education National Standard article 18 that elaborated on the fulfillment of period and amenability of education of scholars could be conducted through 1) attend all learning process as the amenability burdened accordingly; and 2) attend learning process in the study program to accomplish some inside and pursue the rest outside of the study program. Through this curriculum, scholars conquer a chance in a semester or equal to 20-course credits to pursue education outside the study program but in the same higher education institution; and the longest for two semesters or equal to 40-course credits to pursue education in the other higher education institution but under the same study program, or in different study program on the other higher education institution; and/or education outside higher education. For scholars of the Study Program in History, internship activities could be converted equal to the course credits in internship courses, which are offered in the 6th semester. To accelerate the number of graduates, as in the curriculum of 2017, the curriculum of 2020 also removed comprehensive exams for scholars and changed the undergraduate thesis format to a final task (TA). In total, the offered course credits are 159 with 28-course credits for optional courses. From the total, the compulsory credits are for 145-course credits.

D. Study Program's Excellence

Focused on the study of history and culture of maritime.

E. Supportive Facilities

For academic activities, Study Program in History provided a library, a historical laboratory, and audiovisual. The historical library provided books not less than 5000 books. The laboratory then is filled with historical recordings, publicized historical resources, archives, reference books, thesis under the limitation of Semarang, and 100 pieces of ceramics that were lifted from the Strait of Gelasa, Bangka Belitung. The audiovisual room then supported classes, especially the history cinematography course.

F. Graduates Profiles

The history scholars are educated to conquer the ability as:

1. History researcher
2. History educator
3. History journalist
4. Guardian (pamong) of history and culture
5. Entrepreneur in the historical sector.

A. Background

One of the regulations of Garis-garis Besar Haluan Negara (GBHN) 1999-2004 specifically emphasizes the expansion and equality in obtaining high-quality education for all Indonesian people; national and local culture must be preserved. In line with this regulation, the Decree of the Minister of Education and Culture No. 136/1997 Chapter II concerning the Policy for the Implementation of Higher Education states that:

- 1) Qualifications of education personnel from the Magister/Doctoral Program must be upgraded.
- 2) The management of graduate programs must be improved.
- 3) In the cultural sector, the mentoring and the development of language and literature must be enhanced through Strata2/Strata 3 Program.

Another factual consideration is community needs that the education in Indonesia will be more advanced if the academic potential of education personnel is upgraded. All personnel and researcher with Strata 1 Diploma needs a suitable place to improve their competency and continue their study. Thus, the Graduate Program of Diponegoro University with the support of units, including the Faculty of Humanities, Educational Institute, Educational Development Institute, Library Execution Unit, and many more, holds a Graduate Study Program in Literature with a specialization in: English Literature, Indonesian Literature, Nusantara Literature, Islamic Literature, Javanese Literature, Japan Literature, Chinese Literature, French Literature, American Study, and Cultural Study.

Literature Graduate Study Program, the Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University was established on 28 October 2002 with the approval of DIKTI No. 3207/D/T/2002. The department initiated organizing new student admissions and learning processes in March 2003. Like the other departments, Literature Graduate Study Program was under the responsibility of two institutions, the Faculty of Humanities and Graduate Diponegoro University. In 2012 according to Rector's Decree No.609/SK/UN7/2012 on Administration and Academic Management of a monodisciplinary Graduate Study Program at Diponegoro University, the department independently was under the Faculty of Humanities.

A. History

Indonesian Literature is the first department established at the beginning of the Faculty of Literature, which at that moment was the Faculty of Literature and Culture. The notion of the establishment was based on Rector's Decree No.626/Sp/Adm/BUP/1965 dated 25 January 1965 on the Formation of the Committee of the Faculty of Literature stating that: "Central Java is rich in historical, cultural, and literary sources of Indonesia."

With the support of the head committee, Prof. Soenario, S.H., the faculty was established on 1 September 1965 in accordance with the Decree of the Minister of Planning, Information Technology, and Reporting (PTIP) No. 173/1965 dated 21 August 1965 with one department, the Department of Indonesia. The department expected that the graduates were able to research and broaden their horizons on Indonesian literature, language, history, and culture to introduce them to the international world. In line with the demands of the times, the Faculty of Literature and Culture established new departments, which were Anglo Saxon Department (1967) and History Department (1974). Then the Department of Indonesia changed into Indonesian Literature, Anglo Saxon Department into English Department, and History Department into History Science Department. The establishment of the Department of Indonesia was based on the Decree of the Minister of Planning, Information Technology, and Reporting No. 173/1965 but the Decree of the Department of Indonesian Literature was only reaffirmed by the Director General of Higher Education on July 11, 1996 No. 220/Dikti/Kep/96.

According to the accreditation certificate issued by the National Accreditation Board for Higher Education of the Republic of Indonesia Number 5420/SK/ BAN-PT/Ak-PPJ/S/IX/2020, it states that Indonesian Literature is accredited with an A rating. In 2021, the department has successfully passed the international accreditation assessment from Foundation for International Business Administration Accreditation (FIBAA).

A. Background

The Linguistics Postgraduate Program is one of the postgraduate programs owned by the Faculty of Cultural Sciences, Diponegoro University, established based on SK Dikti number 1340/D/T/2005. This study program aims to contribute to the state and nation in developing human resources through higher education by providing opportunities for undergraduates in the fields of language (linguistics), literature (literature), and language education to have a second strata (master) qualification.

In northern Central Java, no postgraduate program in general linguistics and applied linguistics has become a destination for undergraduates in the language (linguistics), literature, and language education to pursue higher education. It is for undergraduates who want to prepare themselves to be teachers, lecturers, researchers, language observers, and business actors in the language field. Therefore, this department can become the leading destination for people in Central Java, especially the northern part, and people throughout Indonesia and the world..

Linguistics, general and applied, is the preliminary study in this department. The studies are based on various approaches, such as structural, functional, cognitive, social, ethnographic approaches, and so on. Studies in this department prioritized languages in Indonesia, both local, national, and international languages (foreign languages).

The implementation of education uses various models, which include lectures in the classroom, field research, assignments, teaching (micro-teaching), and community service as a form of enrichment.

A. Overview

When founded in 1965, the Faculty of Literature and Culture of Diponegoro University aimed to educate students to become Indonesian culture graduates who would study Indonesian culture to enrich and introduce it internationally. Therefore, the only department held is the Indonesian Department.

In 1967, this goal was developed to form the Anglo Saxon Department. However, the selection of majors or expertise is carried out in the third year. So, students are still in the general major in the first and second years. However, in 1968 there was an opinion that such a major was less profitable for students, especially those who chose the Anglo Saxon Department. Then the Faculty of Literature and Culture Senate discussed these issues directly. The Senate meeting on January 31, 1970, decided that the majors be carried out in the second year. Thus, the Indonesian basis is given solidly in the first year.

The Anglo Saxon Department became the embryo of the English Literature Department. At that time, the Anglo Saxon Department only opened to the baccalaureate level. Then, in 1973, the doctoral level was opened, and the first time graduated in 1974. The permit for the establishment was obtained from the Director General of Higher Education, namely SK Dikti No. 106/Dikti/Kep/1984, April 21, 1984. The English Literature Department obtained A accreditation from BAN-PT for three consecutive periods until 2013. For 2014-2019, the English Literature Department received B accreditation and again received A accreditation in 2019.

B. Vision, Mission, and Educational Goals

The vision of the English Literature Department, Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University is to become a Superior and Competitive Department at the Global Level in the Field of Language, Literature, and English culture by 2025.

Mission

1. Organizing Excellent and Competitive Education in the Fields of Language, Literature, and Culture of the English-Speaking Society.
2. Carrying out Scientific Research and Publications in the Field of Language, Literature, and Culture of the English-Speaking Society.
3. Organizing Community Service in the Fields of Language, Literature, Culture, and English Language Skills.
4. Establishing Cooperation in the Fields of Language, Literature, and Culture in Department Development.
5. Improving Professionalism, Capability, Accountability in Governance and Independence in the Department Implementation.

Educational Goals

The educational goals of the English Literature Department is:

1. Produce scholars in English language, literature, and culture with academic abilities, moral integrity, scientific, critical, and professional attitudes, and high competitiveness at national and international levels.
2. Produce quality scientific publications in the fields of English language, literature, and culture.
3. Produce quality community service works in the fields of English language, literature, and culture.
4. Generate cooperation in the fields of language, literature, and culture in department development.
5. Realizing an efficient, accountable, transparent, fair, and integrated department management.

The excellence of English Literature Department

Three expertise: Literature, Linguistic, and American Studies

C. Educational Programs, and Systems

The Department of Linguistics covers the English Literature Undergraduate Program and the Linguistics Postgraduate Program. The English Literature Undergraduate Program currently runs three (3) curricula: the 2012 Curriculum, the 2017 curriculum, and the 2020 Independent Curriculum. Students of the English Literature Undergraduate Program with the 2012 Curriculum are required to take one of three specializations: Linguistics, Literature, and American Studies. The Department regulates the selection of these specializations at the end of semester 2. Other than English, there are supporting foreign languages offered in the curriculum: French, Japanese, and Korean, which are compulsory elective courses, and students must choose one of the three languages. The 2012 curriculum offers thesis and non-thesis lines as a final project for graduation requirements. Students are required to have a minimum GPA of 3.2 to write a thesis. The thesis is written in English. Students of the non-thesis line are required to write a final project in the form of an extended essay in English, the topic of which is adjusted to their respective interests. Non-thesis line students must take three (3) substitute courses, each weighing two credits. Thesis and non-thesis students are required to take a minimum of 144 credits.

The department applies the 2017 Curriculum for students of 2017, 2018, and 2019 batches. The 2017 curriculum has the main content of Literature and offers elective courses in Literature, Linguistics, and Cultural Studies. The 2017 curriculum includes free-choice courses: English Language Teaching, English for Public Relations, Popular Writing, and Cross-Cultural Communication. Students can take Literature, Linguistics, and Culture specialization elective courses starting in semester 5. This specialization option is related to the student's final project in the form of a thesis, which must be written in English. Students who follow the 2017 Curriculum are required to take Internship courses and carry out internships at institutions, agencies, or companies they choose or who already collaborate with Study Programs. 2017 Curriculum students must take a minimum of 144 credits.

The department implements the 2020 Independent Curriculum for English Literature students starting from the batch 2020. A more detailed explanation regarding the 2020 Curriculum is in sub-section D of the Curriculum below.

In addition, before taking the final thesis or project exam, all students must have a TOEFL score of 500.

D. Curriculum

The English Literature Department applies an Independent Curriculum for English Literature students starting in batch 2020. The Independent Curriculum allows students to take courses in other departments within Diponegoro University, attend lectures in the English Literature Department at a legal entity university (PTNBH) other than Undip, or do internships. Students can take lectures in other English Literature departments outside Undip and do internships in semester 6. 2020 Curriculum students must take 144 credits as a graduation requirement, with details: 117 SKS Compulsory Courses and 27 SKS Elective Courses.

Courses, codes, credits, and prerequisites for the 2020 curriculum can be seen in the following tables.

A. Overview

The establishment of the Japanese Language and Culture Department was initiated in 1998 with the opening of the Japanese Language D1 Program. Three years later, in 2001, the Japanese Language Diploma Program was opened. This study program received Silver Expert assistance from the Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA) from 2000 to 2014.

Since 2005, a Feasibility Study for the Establishment of the Japanese Literature Department has been compiled with the drafting team of Drs. Surono, S. U as chairman; S. I Trahutami, S.S., M. Hum. as secretary; and Drs. Suharyo, M. Hum, Drs. Suyanto, M.Si, Elizabeth Ika Hesti A.N.R, S.S, M. Hum, Budi Mulyadi, S.Pd. M.Hum, Yuliani Rahmah, S.Pd.M.Hum as members. With the Decree of the Ministry of National Education No 1938/D/T/2009, the Faculty of Humanities Undip received an operational permit to open a Japanese Literature Undergraduate Program. In the 2010/2011 academic year, the Japanese Literature Undergraduate Program began to accept the first batch of new students. The head of the Japanese Literature Undergraduate Program for the 2010-2014 period was held by Drs. Surono, S.U.

In 2018, by adjusting the nomenclature of the Ministry of Research, Technology and Higher Education, the name of the Japanese Literature Undergraduate Program was changed to the Japanese Language and Culture Undergraduate Program. Currently the head of the Department is Budi Mulyadi, S.Pd, M.Hum., with the secretary Yuliani Rahmah, S.Pd., M.Hum.

A. History

Prof. Dr. Karyana Sindunegara initiated the Undergraduate Library Science study program in 2001 when the Dean of the Faculty of Letters was Drs. Anhari Basuki, S.U. The proposal for the establishment was submitted to the Director General of Higher Education in 2002, but it has yet to be approved and must be revised in several parts. The committee's activities were vacuumed due to several obstacles, one of which was that the chairman of the committee was sick. The committee conducted a feasibility study on establishing a library science study program in 2004. The proposal was submitted to the Director General of Higher Education the same year, but it had to be revised because it had to adapt to a new format.

In accordance with Ministry of National Education Decree No. 232/U/2000 and Ministry of National Education Decree No. 45/U/2000, the revised proposal was resubmitted in 2005. The proposal for the establishment of library science was approved by the Director General of Higher Education with the Dikti permit No. 3025/D.T.2005, dated September 15, 2005, as a result of the hard work of the committee consisting of Dra. Sri Ati, M.Sc., Drs. Jumino, M.Lib., and Drs. Catur Kepirianto.

Based on Dikti Permit No. 3025/D.T.2005, the Library Science Study Program accepts new students across pathways for the academic year 2005/2006. This is because it is no longer possible to recruit regular program students at this time. The SPMB has opened regular student admissions for the 2006/2007 academic year.

B. Vission, Mission, and Purpose

Vission

The Library Science Study Program's scientific vision is to establish the Library Science Study Program as an educational institution capable of producing quality graduates and mastering the field of science and information technology, with high competitiveness at the national level, and an entrepreneurial spirit in the field of libraries and information, as well as being independent and insightful.

Mission

- 1) Organizing quality research-based teaching in the field of library and information science on a national and international scale;
- 2) Developing scientific research and publications as a contribution to the development of library and information science;
- 3) Organizing community service based on the findings of research conducted by lecturers and students in the field of library and information science in an effort to implement and develop science and technology.
- 4) Develop a teaching and learning environment that upholds academic ethics and has good governance;
- 5) Collaborate with other parties on a national and international scale by maintaining networking/networking for the advancement and development of the field of library and information science.

Educational Purposes

The educational purposes of the Library Science Study Program:

- 1) Produce graduates with quality research competencies and/or professional expertise in the field of library and information science, who have academic and/or professional abilities, moral integrity, scientific and critical attitudes, and high national and international competitiveness;
- 2) Produce research and publication works, as well as innovative and high-quality professional expertise in the field of library and information science;
- 3) Produce community service projects that improve people's living standards, the nation's progress, and the spirit of science and technology-based entrepreneurship.

C. Educational System and Program

The Undergraduate Study Program in Library Science is administered by the FIB Undip Department of Humanities. Beginning with the 2020-2021 academic year, the S1 Library Science Study Program uses the Independent Curriculum, which was developed in response to a workshop held in early 2020. Students in class 2020 have used the Independent Curriculum. Students must complete 144 credits, which include 136 credits of required subjects and 8 credits of elective courses.

After passing the seminar course and completing at least 110 credits, students can submit a thesis proposal. As a result, students can enroll in thesis courses in the seventh semester. Students are required to take KKL (Working Practice Program) in addition to compulsory and elective courses in order to understand the direct application of theory obtained from the learning. Students must take the TOEFL test in the fourth semester, which will be managed by the study program.

D. The Advantage of the Study program

Giving theory and practice of data and information management in today's digital era

E. The Profil of Graduates

Graduates are expected to become Expert Librarians in the field of libraries and information, who are superior and have an entrepreneurial spirit.

F. The Competence of Graduates

Library science graduates are expected to become information experts who can:

- 1) Manage information, documents, and archives;
- 2) Serve users according to their needs using information technology;
- 3) Manage and disseminate information in accordance with the development of information technology;

- 4) Market information in accordance with the trend of development of user needs; and
- 5) Preserve information in an effort to ensure the continuity of the availability of information;
- 6) Capable of being an entrepreneur in the field of libraries, documentation, and information centers (Perpusdokinfo).

A. History

To date, the education services of the undergraduate program in the Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University are conducted through five departments, including Indonesian Department, English Department, History Department, Library Science Department, and Japanese Department. Over time, society changes at the domestic, regional, and global levels. To respond to these changes, the Faculty of Humanities urged to establish a new department, namely Social Anthropology Department.

The notion to establish the department started in 1997. Since then, efforts continued until 2011 when Prof. Soedharto encouraged various parties to initiate Social Anthropology Department. The formation of the department was led by Prof. Mudjahirin Thohir, Prof. Nurdien H. Kistanto, Dr. Eko Punto Hendro, and Dr. Amirudin.

Social Anthropology Department was established on March 5, 2014, in accordance with Decree Number 088/p/2014. The establishment complements the provision of educational services for the Faculty of Humanities to the community and the answer to the need for experts in cultural studies. The department focuses on culture specifically media culture and coastal culture.

B. Vision, Mission, and Purposes

Vision

Organizing anthropological education that can produce graduates as researchers, academics, analysts, and planners who can make creative, innovative, and sustainable socio-cultural studies and plans; master the fundamental concepts, theories, methods of cultural studies, good planning, analysis techniques, and communication skills using Information, Communication, and Technology (ICT)

Vision

By 2025, the department will excel nationally and internationally in education, research, and community services in culture.

Mission:

1. Organizing higher education with a concentration of anthropological studies based on quality assurance;
2. Organizing the teaching of anthropology based on the latest developments in the science and profession of anthropology;
3. Conducting research in anthropology and publishing it nationally and internationally;
4. Providing community services by utilizing scientific and technological competencies for community empowerment;
5. Making efforts to strengthen networks and improve reputation at regional, national, and South-East Asian levels;
6. Gaining recognition from public organizations, academics, and professionals as a quality higher education institution for anthropology in education, research, and community services.

Purposes:

The goals of higher education in Social Anthropology are arranged in accordance with the vision and mission of the department as well as the community's needs. The purposes are carried out to produce undergraduate graduates (S-1) who have competencies based on the level of education and are communicated to lecturers, students, and related parties. The purposes of the department are to produce graduates who can:

1. Have quality research competence and/or professional expertise in literature, language, history, anthropology, and libraries who have academic and/or professional abilities, moral integrity, scientific and critical attitudes, and high competitiveness both at national and international levels.
2. Conduct innovative and quality research works and publications and become professional experts in social anthropology.
3. Provide community services that contribute to improving the living standards of society and the progress of the nation and fostering the spirit of science and technology-based entrepreneurship.
4. Creating higher education governance in the faculty that is efficient, accountable, transparent, fair, and integrated among departments at the Faculty of Humanities.

The benefits of the proposed department to institutions, society and the nation (Benefits to the development of the nation, especially related to managing the nation's resources and increasing nation competitiveness).

Graduate Profiles

A graduate degree in Undergraduate Social Anthropology is a Bachelor of Social Science (S. Sos.). The graduates work as socio-cultural researchers, academics in the socio-cultural field, cultural analysts, planners and development in the socio-cultural field, professionals in the media industry, professionals in the creative, arts and culture industries, workers in the government and private sectors, social workers, cultural journalists and editors, and socio-cultural consultants.

D. The Eminence of the Department

Excellence in media assessment and compatibility with creative industries

E. Competencies of graduates

S1 Social Anthropology graduates have the competency in analyzing and providing solutions to cultural problems and applying knowledge in supporting the community development towards a more cultured society.

C. Curriculum

The credit load at the Social Anthropology Department, Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University for undergraduate education (S-1) is 144 credits, consisting of 138 credits through lecture courses and 6 credits for the thesis. The current curriculum is the 2017 curriculum for students from 2017 to 2019, and the Kampus Merdeka curriculum or the 2020 curriculum for 2020 students. The Kampus Merdeka curriculum is based on Regulation of the Minister of Education and Culture Number 3 of 2020 concerning National Higher Education Standards. The implementation of the curriculum is in collaboration with various other universities in Indonesia that have an Anthropology department, especially in the Java Island area, including Gadjah Mada University, University of Indonesia, Brawijaya University, and Airlangga University. S1 Social Anthropology Study Program, Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University focuses on studies in the maritime and media fields. The maritime sector is chosen as Diponegoro University is in a coastal area so studies on coastal communities and maritime culture need to be strengthened as a support for national identity, while the media is one of the tools for disseminating cultural practices and one of the elements forming culture itself. Nonetheless, other fields of study are also taught in the department so graduates will be able to play a role in various fields.

Note:

- The mark (*) is an old course (2017 curriculum) that has been sharpened, merged, expanded, and/or separated from courses with the same one in the Curriculum;
- The mark (**) is a new course that meets the needs of stakeholders, and university mandates, and/or follows the fulfillment of the new CPL.
- The sign (***) is an elective course, students can take it in their own department or the same department but from a different university.
- Total Credits 148 (Number of Credits Undergraduate Strata-1 is around 140 – 160)

Learning Methods and Assessment at Kampus Merdeka Curriculum

- a) Courses are based on the correlation between study materials and learning outcomes, where each of study material contains the weight so the depth of the course can be determined in the form of credits. Courses consist of:

National Compulsory Courses, (7 credits)

University Compulsory Courses, (14-16 credits)

Department Compulsory Courses (minimum 60 % of total credits)

Elective Courses (maximum 24 credits)

Internships/Other course forms

- b) The learning process for National and University Compulsory courses (designed in semesters 1 and 2, except for Entrepreneurship, Community Service and Final Projects), students can choose courses outside Diponegoro University, carried out for 1 to 2 semesters. The implementation of the National and University Constitutional Courts is coordinated by the University, except for the Final Project carried out by the respective department.
- c) The learning process for compulsory courses in the study program (number 3), students can carry out the learning process in the same study program at other universities/institutions with a maximum of 40 credits with the following conditions:

If taken courses in the same study program outside the university, students can take them in semesters 3 to 6; If it is taken in the form of activities such as Village Projects, Summer Courses, School Teaching, Student Exchange, Entrepreneurial Activities, Independent Studies or Humanitarian Projects, students can take them in semesters 3 to 6 and the implementation can be conducted on semester break.

If taking an internship and research activity, students can take it in semesters 6 to 7 and the implementation is on semester break.

- d) These learning processes must meet the objectives of compulsory courses.
- e) For elective courses, students can choose the courses inside or outside Diponegoro University.
- f) The department is expected to determine or formulate:

The list of compulsory courses that can be taken both inside and outside Diponegoro University.

The list of equivalent courses for learning processes outside Diponegoro University for 2 semesters, including internships, village projects, student exchanges, and so forth.

- g) The implementation of Internships, Village Projects, School Teaching, Student Exchange, Research, Entrepreneurial Activities, Independent Studies, or Humanitarian Projects are regulated as follows:

The department forms the credit conversion team according to the Dean's Decree consisting of the Head and the Secretary of the Department, GPM, and Lecturer Representatives

The credit recognition of an internship with a calculation of one credit is equivalent to 2.720 minutes or 45 hours with a minimum of 1 month and a maximum of 6 credits months, namely 5 working days per week, 8 hours per day (Regulation of the Minister of Research and Technology Number 123 of 2019)

Every student who intends to take an internship or other learning processes is required to prepare a proposal and submit it to the Head of the Department prior to the implementation.

Every internship or other learning form must have a supervisor from the Department and a mentor from the Partner. The department together with supervisors equip students regarding the fulfillment of CPL and prepare evaluation rubrics that will be given to Partner Advisors.

In terms of accommodating if there are students who will do internships for 1 semester (6 months) or equivalent to 21 credits, the department is required to prepare any courses that can be used as conversions from these activities

E. Lecturers

The Social Anthropology Department of the Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University is classified as a new study program, but the course supervisors are competent professors and lecturers in anthropology. Lecturers in the department consist of 11 permanent lecturers and 11 adjunct lecturers. Adjunct lecturers are from various backgrounds, ranging from lecturers at Diponegoro University with an anthropology educational background to practitioners who can enrich the insights and knowledge of anthropology for students. These lecturers are also able to lead students to academic and non-academic achievements outside Diponegoro University.

CHAPTER VI

DEVELOPMENT AND COOPERATION

A. Regulatory Basis and Procedure Manual

Development and cooperation are crucial for institutions to achieve advancement. This sector consists of a development sub-sector and a cooperation sub-sector. The development sub-sector is related to the preparation of a blueprint regarding future institutional development. Due to the importance of development, FIB has taken some action, such as the preparation of the FIB 2020-2024 strategic plan document, the recast of the SOTK (Organizational Structure and Work Procedures of FIB), which places RGA (Revenue Generating Activities) units as an essential element in the institution and refinement of faculty forms in preparation for accreditation of various departments at FIB Undip. It is stated in the Dean's Decree no. 61/un7.5.6.2/hk/2020.

The cooperation sub-sector is also a crucial sector. Many students are involved in the collaboration initiated by FIB, thereby increasing their experience in education, research, and networking national and international. Moreover, if this is related to the Undip spirit to become an excellent research university with an international reputation, cooperation has a very strategic position. Cooperation with various relevant institutions will further spur the popularity of FIB, improve the quality of lecturers in teaching and research, and expand networks, which in turn will also spur the improvement of the quality of students and graduates.

Cooperation activities aim to improve and develop the ability of the parties to carry out the tri dharma of higher education. In developing cooperation, FIB is guided by the regulations set by the university regarding guidelines for cooperation with other institutions. The scope of cooperation can cover aspects of education, research, community service, and university management. Undip provides vast opportunities regarding activities that can be collaborated in management contracts, credit transfer systems, lecturer and student exchanges, joint publications, joint seminars, and various other forms of cooperation deemed necessary.

Cooperation must be stated in the cooperation agreement and plan of operation. The cooperation agreement document is signed by the rector and the cooperation partner, following the applicable regulations. In contrast, the cooperation operation document can be signed by the rector and the dean, the dean of the postgraduate program, or the institution's head. In this case, the faculty also acts as an element of implementing academic cooperation.

At this time, in line with the development and cooperation with partners, the university still holds the authority to sign the MoU-level cooperation document (Memorandum of Understanding). Meanwhile, suppose there is no MoU signed by the Rector, even though there is an urgency for the faculty to cooperate with specific agencies. In that case, the dean is authorized to sign a cooperation agreement with officials of the same level. It is done to anticipate swift cooperation in the community.

At this time, the university also provides a vast opportunity for faculties to expand cooperation. In this case, the university only provides signs regarding the feasibility of prospective partners who will collaborate, such as a) clarity of legal status, b) suitable track record/qualification, c) strategic value; reliable management support, d) good faith, e) compatibility in aspirations, f) goals and interests, g) compatibility in cultural aspects of potential partners, h) availability of resources from potential partners, i) exemplary commitment and willingness to trust each other, j) willingness to take risks as a result of the legal consequences of a cooperation agreement, k) willingness and ease of exchanging and sharing information, l) the value of synergy that can be built from cooperation, m) agreement on regulations and policies used for the implementation of cooperation.

Because the initiator of this collaboration is open to lecturers as individuals and study programs as institutions, it is necessary to know the steps for initiating a collaboration. First, the initiator discusses with the department about the cooperation plan. In terms of cooperation related to RGA, the initiator discusses with the head of the relevant FIB service unit. Furthermore, the initiator, the department head, and/or the head of the service unit discuss with the deputy dean of resources. Furthermore, academic and student cooperation activities will be under the responsibility of the vice dean of academics and student affairs. In addition to cooperation in the RGA raising and academic cooperation, other cooperation in the field of research and innovation will be under the coordination of the vice dean of academics and student affairs. In the next step, after the initiator discusses with the vice deans the type of cooperation they want to establish, a cooperation proposal will be submitted to the vice-rector according to the field of cooperation to be built. The next step is the vice-rector, who will determine whether or not the cooperation initiation proposal can be executed. If the vice-rector agrees, steps will be taken to carry out the signing of the cooperation agreement. Furthermore, the vice-rector creates an archive/scan of the cooperation script and announces/distributes the manuscript to all relevant internal units in Undip to maximize utilization. The faculty needs to make sure that the signing of the Mou by the Rector and the signing of the Plan of Operation (PoO) by the dean can run simultaneously. If this cannot be done, the PoO signing can be carried out at the next step between the dean and the partner officials at the same level.

The proposal preparation must consider cooperation requirements contained in the university regulations and the rector's decree on cooperation. The description includes (1) the dean's cover letter. (2) a proposal (softcopy or hardcopy) consisting of (2a) a cooperation proposal form available in the cooperation section and (2b) data and profiles of potential partners, (2c) a checklist form for analysis and assessment of the feasibility of prospective partners, (2d) a draft cooperation agreement (MoU). (2e) other documents according to Dikti requirements, if related to degree programs (joint degree, double degree, and others).

B. Cooperation

The Faculty of Humanities, Diponegoro University (FIB Undip), has collaborated with various educational institutions domestically and abroad, as well as government and private agencies. Domestic cooperation has been established with 73 agencies, from educational institutions, government agencies, and industry. Cooperation with educational institutions is generally related to the tri dharma activities of higher education (education, research, and community service).

Government agencies that collaborate with FIB Undip include The coordinating Ministry for the Economy, Ministry of Fisheries and Marine Affairs, National Library of the Republic of Indonesia, National Archives of the Republic of Indonesia (ANRI), Geospatial Information Agency, Deputy for Political Affairs, Secretariat of the Vice President, YPL-PT PGRI Central Java, Central Java Provincial Government, Magelang Regency Government, Tegal, Pekalongan, Kendal, Jepara, Rembang, Central Java Health Office, Central Java Regional Archives Agency, Ministry of Foreign Affairs Research and Development Agency RI, Ministry of Tourism and Creative Economy, Language Association of Central Java, and the Center for Curriculum and Books of the Ministry of Education and Culture. These collaborative activities with government agencies include research, community service, seminars, sending employees of these government agencies to continue their studies, assistance for teaching staff (practitioners), and use of library facilities as well as facilitation for diploma student internships.

Cooperation with the coordinating ministry for the economy and the ministry of fisheries and marine affairs covers especially the fields of research and community service as well as expert assistance. Some activities include research and empowerment of salt communities on the north coast of Java and in various salt centers in Indonesia. In addition, by collaborating with the TNI Navy Headquarters, FIB Undip was also facilitated, especially in research and community service and field lectures for students. Several joint seminars were also conducted with a broader collaboration format, namely with the Deputy for Agriculture and Marine Coordination, the Coordinating Ministry for Economic Affairs of the Republic of Indonesia, and the Salt Cluster of the Industry and Trade Office of Central Java by holding a national workshop with the theme "Strategy for the Development of People's Salt Business. Based on Sociocultural Values to Realize National Salt Self-Sufficiency".

Cooperation with industry is established with several private institutions such as CV Diana Ria Enterprise, which is engaged in culture, Rasika Group Media Network in broadcasting, Djarum Foundation (Djarum Foundation), which is a non-profit organization and helps Undip FIB in building a language laboratory, Siki Bali Foundation, which holding English language training, PT Cargill, which accommodates the implementation of community service through Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) activities, J Test, which is a Japanese language test institution so that it can be used to test the competence of students of Japanese literature and culture department, as well as other private institutions.
